Council Acts To Buy New Parking Area

San Rafael moved ahead last night to pay $93,000 for its fourth offstreet parking lot, at the northeast corner of Third and Cijos streets.

City Councilman Joseph F. Sauer, chairman of the mayor's parking committee, and other members of the council received compliments for their action from businessman Irving Chapman, who has been trying to get parking in the business area for years.

"I wish to compliment the council for its most aggressive action," said Chapman, "It is a very refreshing and encouraging thing."

FOR 64 CARS

The new lot will accommodate 64 cars. The city has $63,000 in the parking meter fund to use for the purchase. The rest will be advanced from the city's general fund and reimbursed later from parking meter revenues.

Corner lot owned by David and Nathan Pugatch—$26,580 for 4,430 square feet, or about $6 per square foot; parcel fronting Third street, owned by Helen E. Lewis, Leon E. Sigard and Armand C. Sigard—$41,500 for 8,850 square feet, or $4.71 per square foot; parcel with Cijos street frontage owned by Eugene Mighell and Adde Bertotti — $25,000 for 6,240 square feet or $4 per square foot.

SMALLER LOT

Sauer said his committee had also considered buying lots between Lootens place and Cijos street, but more property owners were involved, and condemnation might have been necessary. Besides, that area would hold only 59 cars, whereas the Third and Cijos lot will hold 64 cars.

The parking committee includes Sauer, Councilman Louis H. Baar, and businessmen Francis Fogarty of J. C. Penney Co. and Robert Batty of Montgomery Ward and Co.

For the interest of the Penney and Ward stores, it would have been more advantageous to get a lot between Lootens and Cijos, Sauer pointed out. But the two businessmen voted in favor of the Third and Cijos lot for the benefit of the city.

"That was nice of them," Councilman Fred E. Jensen observed.

Convict Says Quentin Has Caused Insanity

A San Quentin Prison lifer petitioned yesterday for transfer to a state mental institution, stating "the strain of his hopeless, long, endless prison sentence" has driven him insane.

Clifford Jefferson, 32, from Kern County, who was moved off the prison's Death Row last summer when former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment without parole, applied for a writ of habeas corpus.

'LIVING HELL'

"The endless imprisonment is a living hell. Death would be a lot easier," he declared in the handwritten request. He further asserted that he had been imprisoned illegally on the life sentence without chance of parole.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court denied the plea without comment.

Jefferson said he had been repeatedly punished by 29-day periods in isolation for disciplinary infractions he could not remember committing. "My mind is a blank," he added.

The offenses include threatening to strike an officer in January and trying to extort money from other inmates in March. His last was on April 15, when he and another prisoner, Louis M. Sark, 24, took part in the non-fatal stabbing of fellow inmate Ronald W. Lushenko, 28.

PUT IN ISOLATION

The two were found guilty by the prison's disciplinary committee and placed in isolation. Their cases were referred to Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich for possible prosecution.

Jefferson is again in danger of execution because the California Penal Code states capital punishment is mandatory for life term prisoners who assault other inmates.

It was under this statute that Jefferson was sentenced to die for the 1955 knifing of Leonard (Sheik) Thompson, a fellow inmate at Folsom Prison, where Jefferson was serving a five-year-to-life sentence for second degree murder.

Boy Chasing Ball Injured By Car

Dwight Keith Stewart, son of M/Sgt. Clark Stewart of 627 Morgan drive, Raphael Village, was in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Driver of the car, Mrs. Georgia H. Mountain, 62, of 117 Oak drive, Bayside Acres, was not held.

Marin Having Salt Water Plant Survey

Marin is one of 10 counties in which the state department of Water Resources is conducting on-the-spot investigations this week of prospective sites for a salt water conversion demonstration plant.

Application for the plant in Marin have been filed by the Marin Municipal and North Marin Water Districts.

Department officials said they would submit their site investigation report by May 15 to the Federal Office of Saline Water, Department of Interior. The federal agency will make the final selection.

The pilot plant is designed to test the engineering and economic feasibility of larger sea water conversion plants. Officials explained the pilot plant also "should be able to serve a genuine need for additional water in whatever area it is located."

Sites are being examined for suitability of the sea water conversion plant without a nuclear reactor to furnish the necessary energy.

In addition to Marin, surveys are being made in San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego Counties.

Kelly Gets Job As Aide To City Manager

Former Police Chief Frank Kelly last night won the job of "administrative aide" to the San Rafael city manager at $500 per month, in a 3-to-2 split vote of the San Rafael City Council.

Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Charles W. Aby voted against hiring Kelly for that particular job, but they were outvoted by the three other councilmen.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen moved that Kelly be offered the job subject to review in three months. Councilmen Louis H. Baar and Joseph F. Sauer backed the motion.

Kelly's job, as outlined by City Manager Dan E. Andersen, would be to administer the collection of delinquent business license fees, act as administrator of the parking meter department and serve as assistant director of civil defense.

OUT, ONE JOB

The hiring of Kelly eliminates the job of a woman employee who counts meter money on a part-time basis. The city manager recommended the $500 salary because the two men now working on meter money collections get $420 per month each.

The action came over one letter of protest and opposition from several members of the audience, who wanted to know whether collection of delinquent business licenses would offset the $6,000 per year salary Kelly would draw.

Jensen replied that Kelly would more than earn his salary because the city has been losing "thousands and thousands of dollars" in escaped business license fees.

DELINQUENCY LIST

Tax Collector Angelina Soldavini said delinquent business licenses average about 20 or 30 every six months, and a police officer is assigned periodically to make the collections.

"We do not have too many delinquencies," said Miss Soldavini.

But Jensen said he has been here 10 years and knows that many casual truckers and other businessmen are getting away without paying business licenses.

"It can't help but fall into the category of assistant to the city manager, by whatever title you call it," he declared. The

Bay Authority Bill Again Meets Delay

New Amendments Proposed At Senate Hearing

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—The proposed Golden Gate Authority was dissected and delayed again this morning in a lengthy hearing before the Senate Transportation Committee.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy offered a series of amendments to his own bill which would put the authority in the control of a seven-member commission named by the governor.

He also eliminated the Golden Gate Bridge from authority control until such time as a trust fund could be built up to pay off the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the bridge district.

SPENDING CONTROL

Major expenditures by the bridge board would have to be approved by the authority, however, during the interim period.

Then came a series of amendments from other senators which would:

1. Eliminate Solano and Napa counties from the nine-county district.
2. Eliminate the Carquinas and the proposed Martinez-Benecia bridges from the district.
3. Provide that toll bridges outside of the district could become toll-free under state operation.
4. Eliminate a section of the bill allowing the authority to cooperate with a rapid transit district.

WHAT'S LEFT?

When Sen. Nathan Coombs proposed an amendment which would eliminate the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District too, Sen. Donald Grunsky asked: "Who can tell what's going to be left? It sounds like taking the auto out from between the license plates and trying to drive the plates."

The Gate Bridge elimination was defeated as were amendments proposed to freeze the power of the authority to use accumulated bridge profits except with legislative permission and a proposal to make the bridges pay all of their maintenance costs, although they now get state gasoline tax aid.

Finally the chairman, Sen. Randolph Collier, closed discussion and sent the bill out for reprinting.

Brown Signs Tam Park Money Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown this morning signed into law a measure which will free one million dollars for expansion of Tamalpais State Park.

The bill by Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister allows the state Division of Beaches and Parks to purchase appropriate areas of the Dias ranch and Frank's Valley on southwest slopes of the mountain, as well as other contiguous areas.

This would mean the division could acquire portions of steep ravines and a mile or two of shoreline which would link Tamalpais State Park with Stinson Beach State Park. The bill will become effective Sept. 19.

Budget-Slogging Supervisors Hear Some Cheering News

The county board of supervisors, wading through an 11-million-dollar-plus proposed budget for 1959-60, got some cheering news yesterday on the plight of Marin's taxpayers.

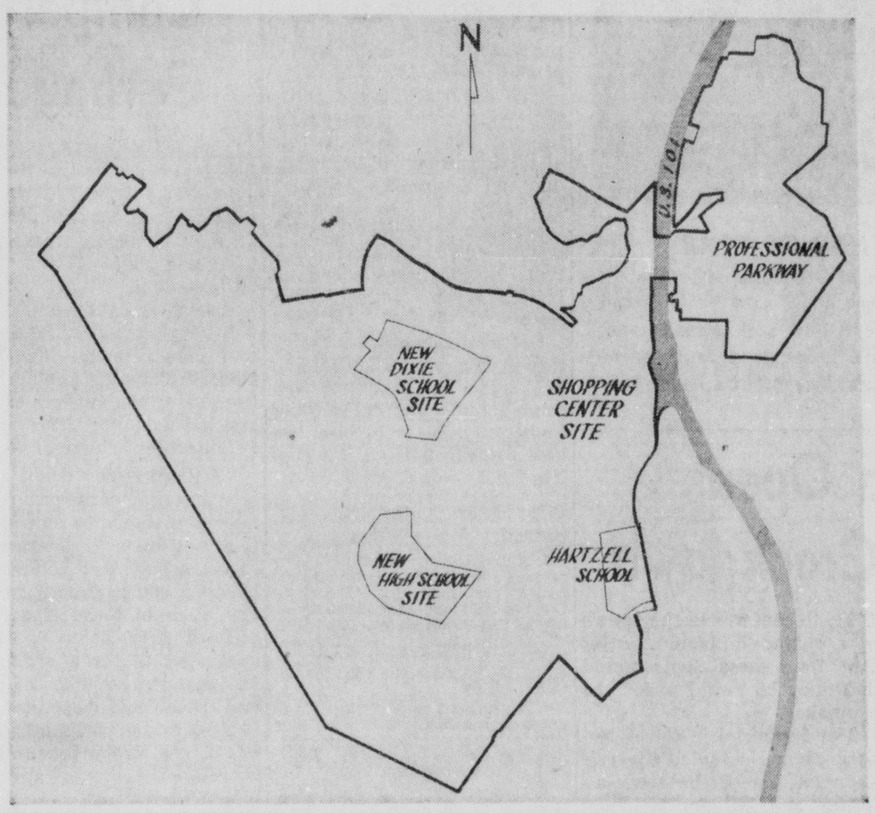

Figures analyzed by the California Taxpayers Assn. showed that Marin County's 1958-59 tax amounted to $77.73 per capita, which placed Marin in 51st place among 58 counties. (The county with the highest per capita tax being No. 1.)

By late yesterday afternoon the supervisors were about half-way through the 200-page proposed budget and had whittled about $30,000 from property tax requirements.

This amounted to a cent and a half reduction from the proposed 1959-60 property tax. It is now down to $2.37¾ compared with $2.30 for the current fiscal year.

The supervisors will continue their budget sessions at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

San Rafael Decides On Big Freitas Annexation

NEW LAND FOR SAN RAFAEL — This is the Gallinas Valley area which will become part of the City of San Rafael, as a result of 4-1 vote by the city council last night. Final action on the annexation is scheduled for the next council meeting. Hartzell School, the new high school site and the site for an additional Dixie District school are brought into the city by the 1,090-acre annexation, along with Harry Heifetz' Professional Parkway development and the site of a proposed new shopping center. (Independent-Journal map by Jack Lucey)

Council Votes In 4-1 Split

San Rafael last night decided to annex the 1,090-acre "Freitas ranch," which would expand the city's land area by about 20 per cent and extend the northern city limits to the Terra Linda parkway ditch.

The decision to annex came on a 4-to-1 split vote of the San Rafael City Council, with Councilman Fred E. Jensen the lone dissenter. A quiet crowd of more than 100 jammed the city hall chambers during the one-hour hearing.

Most of the protests came in the form of letters—from the Dixie School District, Terra Linda Community Services District and County of Marin.

NO PROTEST

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District did not protest the annexation. An earlier decision to protest was reversed by 4-1 vote of the sanitary district directors at a special meeting Saturday night.

Private property owners, who own most of the land, were all in favor of the annexation. They include the Freitas family, Eichler Homes, which has land south of the Freitas home; Harry Heifetz, who is developer of the Professional Parkway across the highway from Terra Linda; John Kenny of Alameda Homes, and Calvin Wheeler, who has property near the Highway 101 entrance to Terra Linda.

The annexed area will go up to but will not include the Terra Linda ditch.

PUBLIC PROPERTY

Publicly owned property in the area to be annexed includes that of Dixie School District, San Rafael School District, Marin Municipal Water District and Terra Linda Community Services District. Property owned by the protestants, Dixie district and Terra Linda Community Services District, came to less than one-half of the total publicly owned property.

Mayor John F. McInnis pointed out that by law, the only protests that are legally binding are those from within the area to be annexed. However, the mayor called for any other protests from the floor.

PROTEST ACTION

John H. Namle, president of the Terra Linda Community Services District, and Jack Brandon, general manager of the district, protested the annexation on grounds it would split the community in half at the now-famous ditch.

Brandon announced today the community services district directors will meet tonight to discuss the possibility of legal action to halt the annexation, based on alleged irregularities in the procedure.

Brandon and Namle claimed the legal description of the boundaries at Freitas parkway and Las Gallinas avenue may be in error.

Dominic Selmi, city engineer, said he believes the description is correct, but he will check the boundary description.

Belvedere Land Plan Runs Into Fund Problems

It's a swell idea, but how are we going to pay for it?

An old saw, but one that Belvedere City Councilmen applied last night to a proposal presented by Planning Commission Chairman George Goddard.

Goddard reported on a planning commission study which sought, at council request, to work out a land use plan for the city's two-acre wedge of land between San Rafael avenue and Community road.

The plan sought to resolve the future land needs of the fire department, the parks and recreation department and the city offices, now located in the Belvedere Land Co. building on Beach road.

TWO PHASES

It called for two-phase development of the area, eventually providing parking spaces adjacent to the fire department for 23 cars, an additional parking lot for nine cars, and slots for six cars on San Rafael avenue.

It provided for construction of offices for the police department and city manager in the space between the present west wall of the community hall and the San Rafael avenue lot line. Below this addition would be room for city vaults, storage and shop space for the fire department.

It specified a 20-foot extension of the present community hall to the south, allowing space for added fire equipment on the lower floor and an expanded meeting space and conference room on the upper.

USE OPEN LAND

For the most part, development was recommended to the south of the present building, and, while leaving intact present park areas to the north, utilizing open land to the south for the parking areas.

Goddard suggested the council, if it favored the plan, go ahead immediately with the building the ground floor of the proposed 20-foot addition, and develop parking area for 13 cars. The cost: About $10,000.

But then the proposal, which all present appeared to

U. S. Widens Probe Of Hendrickson

The U.S. attorney's office in San Francisco today was hoping for new and damaging information about John Rubin Hendrickson, San Rafael manufacturer, in an effort to prevent the reduction of Hendrickson's $100,000 bail.

Hendrickson, 40, of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael, is in San Francisco City Prison on a charge of embezzling a Southern California bank of $20,000.

He was arrested on a federal warrant Saturday night, and after being booked at the Marin County Jail was transferred to San Francisco.

IMPLICATED IN NOTE

He was implicated by a suicide note left by George Hewlett of the Long Beach branch of the U.S. National Bank of San Diego. Hewlett shot himself Saturday.

Hendrickson, married and the father of seven children, was refused bond yesterday by A. Boyd Puccinelli, San Francisco bail bond brokers. Puccinelli backed down on an agreement to put up a record $100,000 bail. He changed his mind after learning that the bank has filed a $500,000 suit against Hendrickson's gas heater and air conditioning plant in Los Angeles.

Hendrickson had sought to pledge the Regal Heating Co., which is reportedly worth a half-million dollars.

HEARING SET

U.S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh set 2 p.m. today for another hearing on the bail. He said that unless government attorneys can offer more detailed information on charges against Hendrickson, he will cut the bail to an ordinary figure.

Meanwhile, Donald S. Constine, assistant U.S. attorney in San Francisco, said he is hoping for more information against Hendrickson.

"It will depend on what I can get from the U S. attorney's office in Los Angeles," he said. He added that as of noon today no more information was forthcoming.

"I hope to be able to maintain a higher bail," he said, "but it may be that the Los Angeles office is withholding certain information that if revealed would jeopardize the case.

"The case is not entirely clear to me. All Hendrickson

Both Sides Voice Hope On Steel Pact

NEW YORK (UPI) — Top spokesmen for the United Steelworkers Union and U. S. Steel Corp. said today they hope to reach a satisfactory contract in the steel industry without government intervention.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for U.S. Steel, expressed the sentiment of both sides when he said: "We would very much like to do our job ourselves. It is our responsibility and we will try to discharge it."

David J. McDonald, head of the USW, said his union "will work diligently to effect an agreement prior to the July 1 deadline."

Cooper and McDonald made the statements to newsmen who told them of President Eisenhower's news conference discussion of the steel wage picture. Eisenhower said that the steel negotiations involve the entire American public and the nation's economic well-being.

Cooper and McDonald agreed on the need of achieving a non-inflationary contract but disagreed widely on how this could be done.

Corte Madera Opens Illegal Sign Crackdown

The Corte Madera Town Council moved into high gear last night in its effort to rid the town of "illegal signs," voting to prosecute 14 sign violators immediately if they do not promise to remove offending signs in two months.

Owners of 37 other signs, which Town Atty. John B. Ehlen he is not absolutely certain can be proved illegal, will be given until March 31, 1961, to conform to the town's new zoning ordinance. After that time those signs would definitely be illegal under the ordinance.

The five-member Corte Madera council accepted the recommendation of the town attorney and William McBride, town zoning administrator, by unanimous vote.

Their recommendation for the 14 provable illegal signs was to ask their owners to sign a statement that the sign "is in violation of town ordinance," that it will be removed or changed to conform in two months, and that if not, "the town may remove it and reserve the right to prosecute in addition."

If an owner of one of the 14 illegal signs refuses to sign such an agreement, Ehlen will prosecute immediately.

Mayor Roger F. Morse said he would like to know which signs the 14 were. McBride replied that he had left the list at home but would mail a copy to each councilman today.

McBride said the 14 were scattered in various parts of town, some along Highway 101 and some in the center of town. The nature of their illegality varied, he said; some are in an illegal location, some are too big and some were specifically turned down by the council.

Reaction To Merger Study Idea Sought

The Corte Madera Town Council last nght voted 4-1 to try to extract a reaction from its somnolent merger study committee on an idea submitted by Larkspur. That updated figures be prepared by Public Affairs Research, Inc., of Oakland.

Larkspur's study committee came to the conclusion that a proposed merger with Corte Madera should be submitted to voters of the Twin Cities.

The Corte Madera committee wound up its study with the conclusion that merger would be "disadvantageous to the people of Corte Madera" if based on the research firm's survey submitted a year ago.

A letter from the Larkspur City Council, suggesting both councils ask William R. Zion of Public Affairs Research for more up-to-date figures on the proposed merger, has remained unanswered since mid-April.

"I'd like to get our committee's reaction," said Mayor Roger F. Morse last night.

Bruce Goecker, a member of the committee, told the council he hadn't heard of any further meetings being scheduled.

"I don't see any use in referring this thing back and forth," said Councilman Walter S. Long.

Bids On Library Expansion Top City Estimates

Expansion of San Rafael Public Library will cost $170,734, about $20,000 more than expected.

This was revealed last night with opening of three bids before the San Rafael City Council.

Wilco Construction Co. of San Francisco turned in the lowest offer. Arntz Contracting Co. of San Francisco bid $177,800, and Ray I. Johnson of Kentfield, 181,400.

The city council asked that the city manager bring in a recommendation on awarding of contract on May 18.

The expansion would add a new wing with 6,000 square feet of floor space to the rear of the old library at Fifth avenue and E street.

City fathers also approved the promotion of Juvenile Officer Joseph J. Brusatori to captain. Brusatori's new salary will be fixed during the budget session.

Officer Eugene C. Frederick gets a pay raise from $418 to $471 effective in July. The council authorized Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa to hire two new patrolmen from the eligible list.

In other action, the city council:

1. Upheld the planning commission's variance granting a 12-foot setback instead of 15 feet for Custom Builders' apartment building at 620 Canal street. The council simultaneously recommended that the 15-foot setback be changed to 12 feet all along that side of Canal street.

2. Authorized the hiring of an engineer to draw up plans for Lincoln avenue extension, from Second street across the Little League ball park to Dubois street.

3. Decided to pay Piombo and Bresnan $3,644 more for sand fill on the Fifth avenue storm drain project. Arthur Bresnan said he was led to believe the sand fill over the pipe would be paid by the city.

Councilman Charles W. Aby moved the $3,644 be paid, since it would still leave the overall contract price lower than the next lowest bid. Councilmen Joseph F. Sauer and Fred Jensen voted for the payment. Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Louis H. Baar voted against it.

3 Hospitals Send Aides To Conclave

Pixie Parents' Playground Invites Public Tomorrow

Pixie Place, a playground for pre-school children on the grounds of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, will unveil its extensive new equipment with an open house tomorrow.

One hundred and fifty parents of young children manage the playground, which was started eight years ago as a small area developed by the child study group of the Marin Branch of American Assn. of University Women.

Numerous busines firms and individuals have contributed materials and money for the full-fledged playground which will have its opening tomorrow.

In 1953, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Evers of Ross agreed to construct an all-weather pavilion on the grounds as a memorial to their son, Albert J. Evers Jr., who was killed in World War II.

In 1956, Pixie Parents was incorporated by parents of the small children using the facility, Landscape architect Robert Royston of Mill Valley agreed to design a completely new and permanent playground.

There was $80 in Pixie Parents' treasury when Royston came up with his plans, calling for a $20,000 project. A series of fund-raising events and contributions by contractors, suppliers and others made possible the completion of the project, according to Mrs. C. W. Iverson of Pixie Parents.

Eisenhower Lauds Strauss For Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that a low point will be reached if personal antagonisms defeat the nomination of Lewis Strauss as secretary of commerce.

Eisenhower told his news conference that he regards Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, as a valuable public servant who has the utmost integrity.

Strauss' appointment has been under attack by some Democratic senators. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) yesterday accused Strauss of using "unqualified falsehoods" in defending his actions as head of the AEC.

Lions Circus Set At Corte Madera

A circus with animal tricks under a big top, plus a "Mad Mouse" roller coaster, will be held May 8 to 18 on the east parking lot of the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The circus is a money-raising event of the Corte Madera Lions Club. The town council last night voted to donate $1,500 to the Lions Club, which will exactly reimburse the club what it pays to the town in a license fee for the 10-day circus.

The Lions Club will put half the donation into a fund for tennis courts (the fund now contains $400). The other $750 will be used to refurbish the kitchen of the Corte Madera Recreation Center, said Lloyd Prosser, Lions Club president.

MONOPOLY BROKEN

Competition Annoys Garbage Company

The Mill Valley Garbage Co., holder of an exclusive franchise to haul away Corte Madera garbage, took its problem of four monopoly-breakers to the Corte Madera Town Council last night.

Robert H. Andresen, attorney for the garbage company, said four firms in the Corte Madera Shopping Center have been using the services of Mel and Ray's Janitorial Service of Petaluma for hauling dry trash.

"If there is any doubt as to interpretation of the ordinance, we feel it should be amended," said Andresen. "I interpret it to mean only Mill Valley Garbage Co. can haul garbage and dry trash in Corte Madera."

Town Atty. John B. Ehlen suggested that the ordinance be amended so that commercial firms could dispose of dry rubbish on their own premises, but if they hire anyone to haul it away, it could only be the Mill Valley Garbage Co.

"What is the magnitude of the problem?" asked Councilman Walter S. Long.

Andresen replied: "Three of the four violators would be paying $50 a month."

Mayor Roger F. Morse commented that since the Mill Valley Garbage Co. "stands ready to collect all garbage and trash, I think we should require everyone to use its service."

Andresen said rates for commercial firms are agreed upon between the firm and the garbage company, subject to appeal to the town council.

Mayor Morse referred the problem to the town's health and welfare committee, which consists of himself and Councilman Long.

In other business last night, the Corte Madera Town Council:

1. Adopted an ordinance integrating the town's disaster plan with that of the county.
2. Adopted an ordinance establishing a 35 mile an hour speed limit on Paradise drive.
3. Approved warrants totaling $11,500.
4. Hired George S. Nolte, San Rafael engineer, at $1,200 to prepare plans for reconstruction of portions of Lakeside drive, Mohawk avenue and Madera boulevard.
5. Approved supplemental appropriations recommended by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow for postage, police investigations, Paradise drive maintenance, street painting and flood control equipment rental.
6. Heard a report from Brandow that he had prepared a list of four possible candidates for town auditor and was arranging interviews. Brandow hopes to propose a replacement for Charles Black at the May 18 meeting. Black, paid on a fee basis, averaged $100 a quarter.
7. Asked that additional information be included in a Corte Madera street improvement program through 1963, drawn up by the town manager, before it is submitted for council action.
8. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Naydeen Penny from the town parks and recreation commission. She pleaded lack of time. She serves as secretary to the council.
9. Reappointed James Davitte to the town planning commission, which still leaves one vacancy created by the May 1 expiration of the term of Wilbur Reed.

Music Chest Ticket Drive To Continue

The Marin Music Chest's summer concert series subscription drive has been extended until May 20, Mrs. George Metcalfe, county drive chairman, announced today.

"If there is anyone who has not been contacted by a chairman or worker in their immediate vicinity and who wishes to subscribe to the Music Chest summer concerts, they should either contact their district chairman or send their subscriptions to county headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth street, San Rafael," Mrs. Metcalfe said.

Chairmen and workers may also go outside their immediate districts for subscriptions, Mrs. Metcalfe said.

County headquarters are open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The report tea at which time financial outcome of the drive will be made known, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Miss Louise A. Boyd in San Rafael. Reservations should be made either through Mrs. Hugh Middleton, Kent Woodlands, or county headquarters in San Rafael.

Hotel Has New Owner In Marshall

The Marshall Hotel and restaurant, a Marshall landmark, is now operating under management of T. J. Armstrong of Berkeley, who has purchased the property from Harry and Beulah Summerfield.

The Summerfields came to Marshall from Sacramento nearly 13 years ago to "cool off." Liking the climate so well, they purchased the hotel property. Now they are retiring and will reside on a hill above Marshall.

The hotel was built by Fred Shields of 1900. That was the era a narrow gauge railroad hauled fish from the ocean and lumber from Cazadero to Sausalito. The railroad vanished when trucking operations took over in the early '30s.

College Board Meets, But Just To Talk

Four College of Marin trustees held an informal budget discussion with president Ward H. Austin last night after canceling a scheduled special meeting because an advance notice was of doubtful legality.

Austin said the board members decided not to hold the special session "in view of objections about the wording of the notice."

Issued last week by Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, board president, the notice said the meeting was to be held "for any junior college district business."

State law requires that announcements of special meetings of public boards declare the precise purpose and not just "any business," Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said Friday.

Wording of the questioned notice was considered an inadvertent slip by the college board members, Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said today.

Austin said no actions were taken by trustees during last night's informal session. He said the board reviewed the status of various items in the current budget "to see where we stood on cash balances," and discussed his 1959-60 recommendations for maintenance of college buildings and grounds.

"We found that we have a tremendous amount of work to do in the area of maintenance," Mrs. Deedy said.

Austin has recommended installation of a new lighting system for the college football field, a project Mrs. Deedy said will be "extremely expensive."

Mrs. Deedy and Mrs. Fusselman agreed last night to accompany Austin May 12 on a trip to Vallejo Junior College and the University of California's Davis campus to inspect their football lighting installations.

The board will hold a conference with the faculty salary committee Thursday at 8 p.m. to hear its 1959-60 salary recommendations. Next regular board meeting will be at 8 p.m. May 14.

Trustee Rupert E. Kempf was not present last night.

New Jobs For 2 Marinites With Bus Line

Two Marin county persons have been appointed to new positions in the operational division of Greyhound Lines, it was announced today by M. C. Frailey, executive vice president of Western Greyhound Lines.

Cloyd Kimball of 531 Woodland avenue, Kentfield, has been appointed director of transportation for the line's western division, embracing the area west of the Rockies with headquarters in San Francisco. With Greyhound since 1946, he has been regional manager of urban operations in the Bay Area.

J. F Hamby of 321 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae, has been appointed superintendent of the San Francisco terminal and dispatch office. With the firm since 1936, he formerly was acting director of transportation.

Fire District Budget Pegged At $46,000

Commissioners of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District last night approved a preliminary budget of $46,000 for fiscal 1959-60 set a public hearing on it for June 5.

Chairman Sidney L. Chapin noted that although the figure represents a $12,000 increase over the current budget, no tax rate increase is contemplated. He said that this would be possible because of added income from Golden Gate Baptist Seminary property in addition to general increase in property valuations in the district.

HEADS OIL COMPANY—Louis J. Brunel of Kentfield has been elected president of the Bishop Oil Co. of which he has served as director for 30 years. Brunel is also a director of the Calaveras Cement Co. and a member of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, the Engineers Club and the San Rafael Yacht Club. He and his wife, Frances, and their daughter, Charlotte, reside at 52 Toussin street.

Series Here To Demonstrate New Life-Saving Technique

Mouth-To-Mouth Breathing Is Subject Of Film

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A little-known life-saving technique so simple a child can do it will be shown and demonstrated at a series of meetings this month sponsored by the Marin County Medical Society.

The technique is that of mouth-to-mouth breathing, made simpler and more effective by the use of a simple plastic airway that is inserted in the mouth of an unconscious person.

The medical profession has long been aware of the efficacy of mouth-to-mouth breathing as a means of reviving the unconscious, according to Dr. R. H. Bowman of Larkspur, chairman of arrangements for the series of public meetings. But recent experiments by two eastern anesthesiologists, Dr. Peter Safar of Baltimore City Hospital and Dr. James Elam of Roswell Park Memorial Institute at Buffalo, N.Y. proved for the first time how far superior the method is to the manual resuscitation methods long taught and widely used.

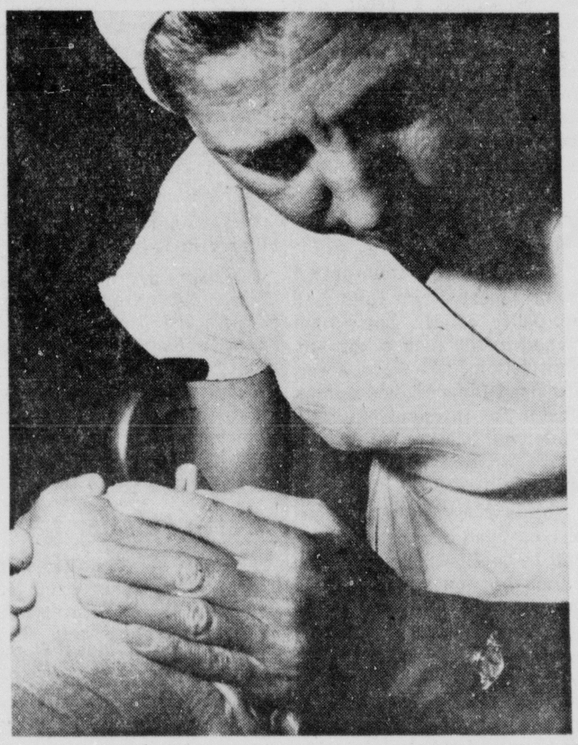

LIFE-SAVING GADGETS — Dr. R. H. Bowman displays two sizes of plastic airways, devices which aid the mouth-to-mouth breathing technique that has been proved sensationally effective in reviving unconscious persons. The little plastic gadgets sell for $1.25 a set. The small one is used for children; the larger for adults. Reversing the ends makes possible fitting the throat airway of any victim. One end is placed in victim's mouth; the resuscitator breaths hard into the other. (Independent-Journal photo)

The two found that mouth-to-mouth breathing moved some 10 times as much air into the lungs of the unconscious person as did any of the three long-accepted methods: back-pressure arm-lift, chest-pressure arm lift and chest-pressure (supine).

In a cold, factual report in Anesthesiology, journal of the American Society of Anesthesiologists, the two doctors wrote:

"With the mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-airway methods . . . even small women and Boy Scouts could ventilate adequately 'victims' weighing up to 210 pounds."

All 87 resuscitators who performed the mouth-to-airway method were successful, Drs. Safar and Elam reported. And all were untrained. Yet experts in artificial respiration failed repeatedly to revive the "victims" by the methods that have been taught to generations of Boy Scouts and Red Cross first aid enrollees.

LIFE-SAVER AT WORK — Nurse Lisa Rubeau, after placing plastic airway in mouth of "accident victim," draws head upward to clear throat airway preparatory to mouth-to-mouth breathing. "Victim" is Jessie Bynum.

The startling result of Drs. Safar and Elam's experiments caused the Army Medical Corps to have a film made to train service personnel in mouth-to-mouth breathing as a means of reviving injured persons. And it started several companies in the business of manufacturing plastic airways, simple devices that come in two sizes and sell for $1.25 a set —so cheap they can be thrown away after being used once, perhaps to save a life.

One necessity in use of the mouth-to-mouth process is that the chin be elevated so the air passage will be kept straight, Dr. Bowman pointed out. Another is that the resuscitator blow hard.

The Army's film will be given at least five showings by Dr. Bowman's committee this month.

On May 18 at 4 p.m. in the little theater of Sir Francis Drake High School, it will be shown to faculty members of Drake, Tamalpais and Redwood Highs. Faculty personnel from other schools in the area may also attend this showing if they wish, said Roy L. Davis, coordinator of the county schools' health department.

The following two days, May 19 and 20, at 8 p.m., the film will be shown in the Marin General Hospital dining room to firemen, sheriff's officers, policemen, ambulance attendants and Red Cross workers.

On May 21 at 8 p.m., in the Marin General Hospital annex, it will be shown to members of the Marin County Nurses' Assn.

A second school showing, for factulty members from other schools throughout the county, is planned for May 27 or 28 in San Rafael High School auditorium. Davis, who is assisting with the school arrangements, said this showing has not been definitely set as yet.

Dr. Bowman pointed out that the mouth-to-mouth method has been approved by the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council, and the Army.

At least two physicians will be present at each film showing to explain in detail the simple but effective life-saving method. Four anesthesiologists will participate at the police and firemen's meeting, Dr. Bowman said.

By the simple act of attending a movie any one of the hundreds who will see the showings may make it possible to save a life.

ALFRED F. GIDDINGS JR.
Bronze medal . . .

ROBERT I. CAMICCIA
. . . and $250 cash

Diver's Rescuers To Receive Medal

Two Marin County telephone men have been named to receive the bronze Vail Medal of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for their rescue of a skin diver from ocean surf north of Fort Ross last December.

They are Robert I. Camiccia, 31, a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. PBX repairman and San Anselmo resident, and Alfred F. Giddings Jr., telephone frameman from Fairfax.

The rescue took place Dec. 14 off the Kruse ranch, where the Marin Skin Divers Club went for its weekly dive. When Giddings and Camiccia arrived, they learned that Don Reeves, a skin diver from Vallejo, was in trouble in the pounding surf.

They drove to the scene, and, with two others, fought their way through 200 yards of dangerous water to where the man in trouble was clinging weakly to a rock. Using floats, they pulled Reaves to a cove a quarter mile away, considering the surf too dangerous for a return to the beach. One of the four rescuers injured a leg, lost his fins and was helplessly floating beyond the surf. Giddings went back into the surf to help him return.

The medals, together with $250 cash awards, will be presented in public ceremonies to be announced later, said W. W. Miller, district manager for Pacific Telephone.

Giddings was born in San Francisco and grew up in Marin. His father is fish and game warden for Marin. Alfred Jr. attended Lagunitas School and Sir Francis Drake High School. He has three years of telephone service. He and his wife, Lynne, live at 4 Azalea avenue, Fairfax.

Camiccia also was born in San Francisco and grew up in Marin, attending Fairfax School, Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. He served in the Navy for three years during World War II. He joined PT&T in 1948 and has worked 11 years out of the company's San Rafael plant department. He lives at 55 Madrone avenue, San Anselmo.

Improvement Of Bolinas Park Voted

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today voted to improve the county park at Bolinas.

The action came after lengthy discussion on a request from Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. In a letter to the board, he asked that leveling and grading be done on the tennis courts, that a flooding problem be taken care of, that a comfort station be repaired and painted and another comfort station be added.

The board heard a similar request last week and placed it in the budget file.

Today, however, on a motion by Supervisor Vera Schultz, the board took this action:

Approval of the work on an estimate to be given by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham.

Approval of a policy that this will be the last county help in paying for maintenance of the Bolinas park, pending recommendations from the county parks and recreation commission on how small county park areas should be operated.

During the discussion, Supervisor William D. Fusselman said: "If you are going to use the park then you have to fix it, and this will probably come up for the rest of the county—in Novato, Kentfield and Tomales Bay. Sooner or later you need a crew. I've always asked for a vote to set up a recreation district. Then it would be apart from the board."

Mrs. Evelyn McDougall of 32 Reed street, Mill Valley, a member of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn., said she supported this law.

Doctor, Wife To Seek Reconciliation

Mrs. Betty Bentinck, 42, of Mill Valley, who filed a divorce action yesterday against Tiburon physician Richard C. Bentinck, 40, announced today she will dismiss the action because the couple is seeking reconciliation.

They were married in Mill Valley in October of 1956. They have no children. She listed their property as including a home at 259 East Strawberry drive, "substantial sums" of money, 23 acres of land, and a medical practice in Tiburon.

Dr. Bentinck specializes in internal medicine and diagnosis.

Sandspit Use On Sausalito Meet Agenda

Three items on the agenda for tonight's Sausalito City Council meeting concern the dispute over proposed commercial use of the city-owned sandspit, promising some spirited discussion on the matter.

The first calls for a resolution approving a proposed sublease by Madden and Lewis to Wetco, Inc., who plan commercial construction on the land.

Second is a letter from Alfred Haas Jr. and 12 others questioning the validity of the council's action permitting commercial development due to possible conflict of interests by Councilman John E. Koenig Jr.

Third is a letter signed by 212 residents taking the opposite view and commending the council on its action.

Labor Dispute Perils HAFB Housing Work

Marin locals of the Carpenters Union threatened indirectly today to withdraw their members from work on the 550-unit, $8,800,000 Capehart housing project at Hamilton Air Force Base in a dispute over a subcontract.

Norman Campbell, business manager of Marin Locals 35 and 1710,, said he had found cabinets were being installed in houses in the project by carpenters supplied by a firm known as International Homes on a labor contract.

"A labor contract is in direct violation of an areawide agreement on subcontracting," Campbell said. "We'll take whatever steps are necessary to enforce that agreement."

(A labor contract is to provide labor only, without materials. This is the purpose of the union itself.)

Campbell said he discovered the existence of the labor-contract crew Saturday. The matter was under discussion in Carpenters Union district offices in San Francisco yesterday. Today, Campbell said "the status is quo." He would not indicate what progress, if any, had been made with Sanders and Associates and George A. Fuller Co., contractors on the Capehart project who allegedly subcontracted the labor through International Homes.

ANNEX

Dixie School District board, charged the annexation would destroy a community. He said the boundary "wanders around," almost creating islands.

He said the Glenwood annex had caused considerable arguments. "Aren't you disregarding all the protests?" asked Jensen.

"Are you asking me, or someone else?" retorted McInnis.

"I'm asking you and any other councilman," Jensen shot back.

At this point, Councilman Louis H. Baar, who in the past has backed Jensen consistently, just about put the matter on ice by seconding Aby's motion to annex.

CITES ADVANTAGES

Mayor McInnis declared advantages to the city happen to coincide with the advantages to the developers of Freitas ranch. He repeated that the protests were far less vigorous than anticipated, and that all legal requirements had been met.

"If anyone considers my vote as ignoring the protests, then they may so consider it," said McInnis.

Councilman Joseph F. Sauer said he, too, found little protest among residents of San Rafael.

"As for the Glenwood annex, I fail yet to see where it was a failure," he remarked.

"I didn't say it was a failure," Jensen replied.

"Anyway, my mind is made up," said Sauer.

The 4-to-1 decision to annex will get final passage at the next meeting. The annexation goes into effect 30 days after that.

BELVEDERE

favor, ran into the facts of life.

"How are you going to pay for it?" mourned City Manager Britton Rey, who said he was already struggling with next year's budget and depressed about the chances of making ends meet.

BOND ISSUE?

A bond issue might do it, Rey said, but the city already faces a bond issue for the proposed sewer improvements.

That seemed to do it—the council backed up in dismay. They took no action to approve the plan, although City Manager Rey said this morning "it will have value for us. It will give us a guide for the future."

Two things did come out of the discussion, however:

1. A long-standing dispute between the parks and recreation commission and the fire department, over use of a 20-foot strip of land adjacent and to the north of the community hall, was resolved.

2. A study was requested of the planners with the Board of Fire Underwriters to determine whether it would be best to locate all of Belvedere's fire equipment in one spot as at present or to decentralize it. The answer to that would have a bearing on any expansion plans.

FIRE BOAT

Goddard groaned, seeing the commission's hard work in jeopardy. Fire Chief Lawrence T. Mersereau bobbed up to say the fire department is already planning to purchase a fire boat (and hinted at a deal whereby the city might get a $42,000 boat for $5,000. It was City Manager Rey's turn to wince.)

The matter of using the strip adjacent to the present hall was solved after long discussion and over the protests of Chief Mersereau.

The council, using Goddard's plans as a guide, granted the fire department use of 10-feet of the strip from the east end of community hall out to the Community road. This area would be used, under the land use proposal, for parking. The rest of the area would be under jurisdiction of the parks commission.

Parks Commission Chairman E. Allan Steinau, said the commission's landscape architect would get to work immediately to design adequate fencing and planting to separate the fire department area from the park, as both a beauty and a safety measure.

Civic Center Subject For GOP Debate

The Marin County Civic Center, long a stormy issue, will get another airing this evening.

An informal debate will be held between County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, speaking for the proponents of the center, and Robert G. Rawson of the Marin Citizens Committee Against the Civic Center.

The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Bernard Hoffman school in Terra Linda, will be sponsored by the Marin County Young Republicans.

Program chairman William D. Keeler said the sponsoring organization is open to the public, and that refreshments will be served at the close of the debate.

Farm Center Meeting

The Novato Farm Bureau Center will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Marin County Farm Bureau office north of Novato to hear a talk on state compensation insurance by James Houseberg, representative of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

Bike Licenses To Be Required In Belvedere

Belvedere bicycle owners will have to pay $1 for a license under an ordinance introduced by the city council last night.

The ordinance also provides a safety code which would be enforced by the police department.

City Manager Britton Rey said the ordinance, with some revisions, had been "kicking around" in the city files for years. "We've been having trouble with children on bicycles for a long time," he said, and brought it out for council approval.

The proposed ordinance provides for issuance of license tags (good until the bike changes hands), imprinting of registration numbers on bikes that don't have them, and prohibitions on passengers, riding "no hands," racing, towing and riding two-abreast.

Rey said the ordinance would help owners locate their lost bikes, a problem to the city, which has a corporation yard full of them.

The council approved the ordinance 4-0 (Mayor Ralph Meyers was absent) and gave it a first reading.

In other matters last night the council:

1. Approved warrants totalling $5,859.

2. Heard City Atty. William Mackay say the application of the Belvedere-Tiburon Yellow Cab Co., owned by Fred Zelinsky, for a franchise in Belvedere was legally deficient.

3. Put over until the June 1 meeting a discussion of a proposed lease of 200 acres of city-owned tidelands property to the Audubon Society for use as a wildlife refuge. Request for the postponement came from Audubon Society attorney Norman B. Livermore.

4. Referred to the city attorney a letter from Mrs. Richard E. Doyle asking a statement from the council on its policy in allowing boat owners to sleep overnight on boats tied up at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere Cove.

"Living aboard the boats creates a health hazard and adds to further pollution of waters" in the cove, Mrs. Doyle wrote. The council wants to know now how other cities control boat habitation.

5. Asked the city attorney to confer with Robert H. Andresen, attorney representing Mill Valley Garbage Co., regarding the company's request for a revised garbage contract. Andresen wrote that a competitor was hauling cardboard and paper from Belvedereans who are rightfully under contract with the Mill Valley company. He wanted an ordinance change that would make it clear to Belvedere residents they may dispose of their trash themselves (by backyard burning or hauling) but must otherwise use the Mill Valley firm as disposal agent.

6. Heard from City Manager Rey that the Regional Water Pollution Control Board had refused to waive requirements for monitoring of bay water near the Belvedere sewer outfall. Rey said the city is therefore attempting to comply by taking samples of the water, having it chemically analyzed and reporting to the board.

7. Adjourned the meeting in memory of Ralph G. Curtis, planning commission member who died last week.

SWINDLE

has admitted so far is that he knew Hewlett."

TWO SUICIDE NOTES

Hewlett left two suicide notes. In one he said ". . . no one else is involved in this horrible mess or even has the slightest knowledge of it but Johnny Hendriekson . . ."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has refused to disclose the contents of the second note.

Hewlett had been summoned to the Long Beach bank Saturday morning after bank examiners found a big shortage. He didn't appear.

While Hendrickson is specifically charged with embezzling only $20,000, federal officials have indicated that the shortage may reach more than three million dollars.

Federal authorities, too, have indicated that other persons are involved, leading to speculation that more arrests might be made.

CAUSE OF SUICIDE

In Long Beach, a bank official, who declined use of his name, said Hendrickson's promotion from cashier to vice president was the cause of the suicide. The promotion made it impossible to continue a check covering scheme, the official said.

While federal authorities estimate the shortage may be in the millions, a source at the bank said a shortage of $150,000 already has been established, but doubted that the total loss would be a great deal more.

The branch's manager, James W. Hynne, said of the embezzlement operation: "This was the fanciest operation I have ever seen." He declined to elaborate.

KELLY

mayor repeated that Kelly is a top police officer, but is not trained in the field of city administration. "We have a serious need for a trained administrator as assstant to Dan (Andersen) . . . As highly as I regard Mr. Kelly, I don't think he is qualified."

Aby said he fears the various jobs outlined for Kelly would tend to conflict. All three jobs cannot be done at the same time, he said. "Too many times a man can't be in two places at one time."

The mayor said civil defense does not need a local director until the confused mess on the state and federal level has been ironed out. Baar agreed that civil defense is in a mess, but argued that since the county has a civil defense director, the city needs one to coordinate with the county and state.

When the city manager returns from his week's vacation, the new job will be offered to Kelly.

Former Marin Pastor Dies

Rev. James Francis Lennon, who was assistant pastor at Our Lady of Assumption Church in Tomales and Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato many years ago, died yesterday in a San Francisco Peninsula rest home. He had been on sick leave since 1932.

Father Lennon was a priest in the Archdiocese of San Francisco. His last position was at Cloverdale, where he lived from 1931 to 1932. He spent a few months in Novato just before going to Cloverdale.

A graduate of St. Patrick's Seminary in San Francisco, he went to Tomales in 1912, two years after completing his studies. He was at the Our Lady of Assumption Church for two years. Other parishes where he was assistant pastor were in San Francisco, Menlo Park and San Jose.

He is survived by one sister, Sarah Lennon.

A Solemn Mass of Requiem will be offered at St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, tomorrow at 10 a.m. The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight in the cathedral. Burial will be in Priests' Plot, Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

WHAT MAKES AN OLDS RIDE SO WELL?

SUPER 88
HOLIDAY SPORTSEDAN

Only Olds gives you both . . .
GUARD-BEAM FRAME PROTECTION
AND WIDE-STANCE CHASSIS CONSTRUCTION

Come in and see for yourself! The sturdier design of Oldsmobile's Guard-Beam Frame is clearly shown on this miniature model.

Take a trial drive in a '59 Olds! Discover how the 9-inch wider frame makes Olds smoother, steadier, more sure-footed . . . more stable on turns. You'll find steering more responsive, too!

When it comes to designing an automobile for superior riding qualities, the key engineering word is balance.

That's why Oldsmobile brings you the Wide-Stance Chassis—plus an exclusive frame construction with the best stability and security factors of both "X" and cross-member construction. There are stabilizer bars front and rear.

Big, smooth-acting front coil springs team up with wide, splay-mounted leaf rear springs that automatically dampen road shock. And the springing system is further assisted by direct-action, out-board shock absorbers.

But for you, the important thing is the result! You've heard of smooth, road-hugging rides before . . . but you actually have to drive a '59 Olds to experience the marvelous difference in its ride. Now that it's Spring . . . why not join us and take that ride?

"Life" Cuts Price

NEW YORK (AP)—Life magazine announced it will reduce its regular newsstand price to 19 cents a copy by June 1. The magazine has sold for 25 cents a copy.

Publisher Andrew Heiskell said that subscription rates would be reduced correspondingly. It will be the magazine's first reduction since it began publishing in 1936 when it was 10 cents a copy.

Competition with the "'free' media of the air" was cited as one reason for the reduction.

Nixon Stock High

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican who has checked on his party's prospects in 22 states says that as of today Vice President Richard M. Nixon is the hands-down favorite for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview he has found little active support for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York as a possible nominee.

"If the convention were being held today, there is no doubt in my mind that Nixon would win the nomination hands down," Goldwater said.

His Train Was Late

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anthony Fogliani fumed when the subway train he was riding was delayed in a station yesterday. He finally got off and took a taxi to work.

Fogliani tended his gas station, which he owned with his brother Vincent, for several hours before finding out why Vincent had not shown up for work.

Vincent was killed when he fell beneath the train Anthony had been riding.

The girl landed in a landscaped area. A doctor could find no injuries beyond the face scratches.

The second stage of the Titan was not fired. Informed sources said this would be attempted when the next Titan is launched.

ARCHIBALD MacLEISH
Pulitzer drama winner

'59 Pulitzer Prize Winners Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—"JB," a verse play which retells the book of Job in a modern setting, has brought Archibald MacLeish his third Pulitzer Prize, the 1959 award for drama.

MacLeish is the eighth American to win at least three Pulitzer prizes. His two previous awards, in 1933 and 1953, were for poetry.

The 1959 selections, announced yesterday by Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, also put William H. (Bill) Mauldin of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in select company. His second prize for cartooning places Mauldin among 34 individuals who have won more than one Pulitzer Prize.

A campaign against vice, gambling and corruption in Utica, N. Y., that achieved sweeping reforms won the 1959 Pulitzer Prize medal for meritorious public service for the Utica Observer-Dispatch and the Utica Daily Press, members of the Gannett group of newspapers.

"The Travels of Jaimie McPheeters," the adventures of a boy and his father during a wagon-train trek to California in the 1849 gold rush, was named the best American novel of 1958. Its author, Robert Lewis Taylor, 36, of Sharon, Conn., has written eight other books and numerous magazine pieces.

In the field of newspaper editorials, the prize went to Ralph McGill, 61, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, who was cited for his work through the year as exemplified by an editorial calling the bombing of a synagogue in Atlanta and a high school in Clinton, Tenn., the work of "rabid, mad dog minds."

Other journalism prizes included:

International reporting—Joseph Martin, 45, and Philip Santora, 47, of the New York Daily News, for series detailing brutalities that forecast the downfall of the Batista government in Cuba.

National reporting—Howard Van Smith, 48, of the Miami, Fla., News for a series of articles that forced a cleanup of a Florida migrant labor camp.

Local reporting on edition time—Mary Lou Werner, 32 assistant state editor of the Washington Star, for coverage of the school integration crisis in Virginia.

Local reporting under nondeadline conditions—John Harold Brislin, 47, of the Scranton, Pa., Tribune and the Sunday Scrantonian, for "displaying courage, inititiative and resourcefulness in his effective four-year campaign to halt labor violence in his home city."

The prizes for journalism, except for the medal, carry $1,000 cash awards. Awards for literature and music are for $500 each.

Crime Reveling Off In State, Mosk Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Atty. General Stanley Mosk has reported a leveling off in California's rising crime rate for the first time since 1955.

In a preliminary report from the state Bureau of Criminal Statistics, Mosk said last year's crime rate rose only three per cent over 1957 although the state's population increased by 4 per cent.

"Considering the fact that during the two previous years the rates of increase were nearly 12 per cent, the 1958 picture showed a lessening in the general trend of rising crime rates which has been observed since 1955," he said.

The preliminary report showed a total of 208,292 crimes as compared with 194,038 in the previous year. A total of 150,955 juveniles were arrested for criminal or delinquent behavior, an increase of 6,000 over 1957.

Klansman Guilty Of Inciting Riot

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—James Garland Martin, 37, a Ku Klux Klansman, pleaded guilty in superior court yesterday to a charge of inciting to riot. The charge stemmed from a Klan rally in January, 1958, that was broken up by angry Lumbee Indians.

Martin, a Reidsville tobacco worker, was given an 18-month suspended sentence, placed on probation for five years and fined $250. He was given a six to 12-month sentence when he was convicted in March, 1958, but he appealed and was granted a new trial.

James Catfish Cole, former grand wizard of the KKK, was convicted of the same charge and is serving an 18 to 24-month prison term. His appeal for a new trial was turned down.

CHARLES CUTS UP—Smiling Prince Charles, hatless in rain at Windson, England, polo grounds, made quite a pest of himself yesterday as the royal family watched a match there. First the 10-year-old future king nearly got his head caught in car door as his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, closed it; then he punched a water-logged canvas under which she was sitting, nearly dousing her; finally he eluded royal supervision and wandered all over the field by himself.

New Plan May Streamline Air Defenses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff will consider a new plan next week for streamlining the continental air defenses and granting more authority to the air defense commander.

Many military men have complained that the defense organization plan put into effect early this year did not explicitly spell out the authority of the head of the North American Air Defense Command over the air, land and sea forces assigned to continental defense.

GENERAL'S HOPE

Gen. Earl E. Partridge, air defense commander, hoped to eliminate the doubt over his authority and to unify further the forces he commands prior to his retirement next July 1.

President Eisenhower is expected to announce shortly that Partridge will be succeeded by Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, now commander of the Pacific Air Forces.

Top ranking military sources scorned the idea that Partridge's retirement was in any way connected with the problem of gaining greater authority for the office he holds.

They brushed aside a published report that he was retiring because of a major policy difference, noting that his retirement was mandatory under the law.

Partridge has had more than 35 years service of which five years were in the permanent rank of major general. Under the law, he has no choice but to retire.

PREVIOUS PLAN

Under the defense reorganization plan, carried out under a law passed last year, it has been the task of the Army, Navy and Air Force to raise, train and equip forces to be turned over to unified field commands. The field commands operate directly under the secretary of defense through the joint chiefs of staff.

The North American Air Defense Command includes both U.S. and Canadian forces.

Partridge has told Congress he had no difficulties about Canadian forces because he took his orders from the Canadian chiefs of staff and simply passed them on to the Royal Canadian Air Force Defense Command at Montreal.

However, he has said that the U.S. situation was "not that simple" because all three armed services are involved.

Lynching Victim's Battered Body Taken From River

BOGALUSA, La. (UPI)—The battered body of a young Negro, lynched by a white mob, was found floating in the Pearl River near here yesterday. Results of an autopsy were to be made public today.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation intensified a search for the nine or 10 hooded white men who dragged their screaming victim, Mack Charles Parker, from an unguarded jail cell in Poplarville, Miss., April 25. He had been held on charges of raping a white woman.

Parker's body was found yesterday by an FBI agent and a Mississippi state trooper, the head protruding above thick underbrush in the swamp river country, 20 miles west of Poplarville at the Louisiana-Mississippi state line.

Parker's head was reported to be mutilated. But authorities said that may have been caused by debris in the river.

Parker was awaiting trial at Poplarville on charges of raping a 23-year-old white mother Feb. 24 while her 4-year-old daughter looked on. The alleged assault occurred near Lumberton, where the rape victim's car had stalled. The attack was made after the woman's husband left the vehicle to go to a garage.

The body was bleached from the long period of submersion in the 40-yard wide river.

Parker and the lynch mob had been the objects of one of the south's largest manhunts. Neither the FBI 40 agents nor the large Mississippi State Highway Patrol staff working day and night on the case had reported any clues.

Parker was carried feet first, screaming and shouting, from his normally unguarded third floor Pearl River County courthouse jail by the men, who first beat him. Parker was tossed into a car and a convoy of four or five vehicles sped the Negro out of the south Mississippi town.

Florida Jury Summoned In Rape Case

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Leon County Grand Jury has been summoned into special session tomorrow to consider the case of four white men charged with the mass rape of a Negro coed.

The jury had been scheduled to take up the case June 1, but the date was shoved up by Circuit Court Judge W. May Walker at the request of State Atty. William D. Hopkins because of "the great public interest."

The four are in the county jail. They have made no request for arraignment or bond.

"We would resist any request for bond between now and tomorrow," Hopkins said.

Florida A&M University students who boycotted classes yesterday as part of a demonstration to focus attention on the case said they would return to school today. Another mass meeting was called for tonight.

The 19-year-old Tallahassee girl was taken from her escort at gunpoint early Saturday following a college dance.

Humor Has Big Place In Cards For Mothers Day This Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Modern moms with modern senses of humor will enjoy the "contemporary" greetings many of them will receive this Mother's Day, May 10.

The cards often hark back to familiar aspects of motherhood which evoke laughs because of their truthfulness, according to the spokesman for a card company here ((Hallmark).

"Frequently," he said, "it's a case of sharing an incident from the past that has been honed to a humorous point and tailored as a greeting."

Take the card that proclaims, "It's Mother's Day, and you deserve the best," on its cover. Inside, the message continues, "So if you can spare a five, I'll take you out!"

And what mother hasn't reminded members of her family of the lack of appreciation rendered for her household services? Another card depicts a droopy, fatigued woman with the caption, "You work your fingers to the bone for your family, and what do you get?" The answer: "Bony fingers!"

Other cards say, "It's a good thing Mother's Day is on Sunday . . . that gives you Saturday to get all your work done"; a husband tells his wife: "I want a girl just like the girl that married dear ol' . . . me!" and "I was going to send you flowers for Mother's Day . . . but I thought you'd rather grow your own—from the enclosed packet of zinnia seed.

Other cards wish mom happy returns of the day in a more traditional manner. Flowers of all types bloom profusely on this year's bright new greetings. Roses and carnations, as well as violets and other spring flowers, are reproduced from full-color photographs

Through a new process, floral and other designs have been printed on pieces of silk to add a touch of elegance to some cards.

Many of the new ones feature unusual ideas. One is shaped to resemble a colorful apron. A tiny paper handkerchief in the apron's pocket pulls out to reveal the wish, "You're in my thoughts today." Another card is entitled "A Golden Chain of Thoughts," and is adorned with a tiny chain of gold.

A wide variety of cards this year offer Mother's Day prayers. In one, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, noted author and churchman, pays tribute to mother and proclaims, "Loving us, believing in us, fighting for us, praying for us, to her we are always her dear child—life of her life."

CHP Radar Measure Over Another Hurdle

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation permitting the Highway Patrol to use radar traps to catch speeding drivers was on its way in the state Legislature today.

The Assembly Transportation Committee approved the bill by Assemblyman William Biddick (D-Stockton) yesterday after the author pointed out that city police forces are already permitted to use radar. Gov. Edmund G. Brown has asked the Legislature to approve the plan.

PUT THOSE DENTS BACK IN OUR BOWL

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP)—Officers love every dent in an ancient punch bowl in the wardroom of the aircraft carrier Wasp.

The bowl was damaged back in 1898 aboard the battleship Indiana when she took a shell hit in the Spanish-American war.

The officers rushed it back with orders — restore the dents, at our expense. The jewelers did. The officers picked up the chit.

Loma Verde Land Owners To Air School Unification

Directors of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn., meeting last night at Loma Verde School, decided to devote the next membership meeting, June 1, to a discussion of the proposed unification of Novato and San Jose School districts.

Robert Allen, association member and a trustee of the San Jose district, was named to head a committee to arrange for speakers on both sides of the issue.

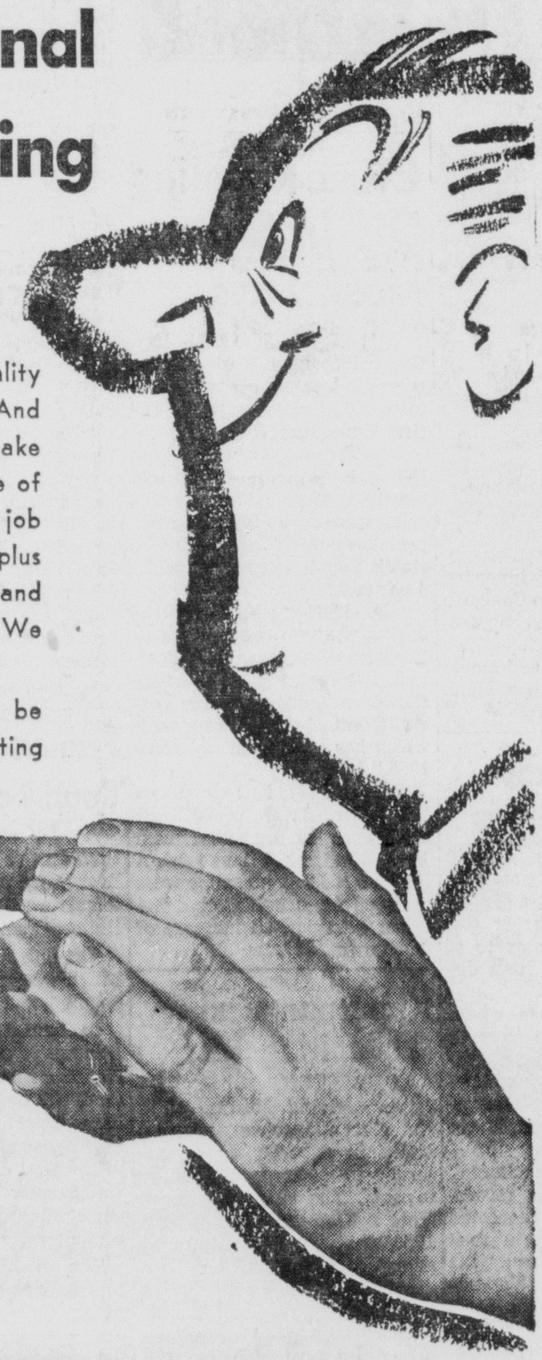

A second committee also was formed to arrange a similar future meeting on the subject of how incorporation of Novato would affect Loma Verde. Capt. Francis McGovern was named to head the committee, which will be expected to come up with a "limited recommendation," said James A. Swenson, association president.

Members of other Portuguese lodges from Sausalito, Petaluma, Sebastopol, Vallejo and Hayward are expected to bring the total number of participants to about 2,000, to match last year's turnout.

Highlight of the celebration will be the crowning of Diana Cordoza of Lakeville as queen during a High Mass at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church after the parade beginning at IDESI Hall.

After the mass, the celebrants will retrace their steps to the hall, where they will join in the traditional feast of Sopa and Carne, to be followed by an auction of gifts and dancing to the music of Larry Cabral's orchestra.

Festival queen

Maids attending Queen Diana will be Regina and Mary Ann Nunes of Santa Rosa. Rosa. Pages are Marie Nunes of Novato, Lorraine Pimentel of Ignacio, Oscar and James Pacheco of Petaluma, Nancy Brazil of Novato and Kenent Caletti, of Petaluma.

"Little queen" for the day will be Mary Jean Raposo of Petaluma, attended by Patsy Bettencourt of Petaluma and Carol Ann Silva of San Rafael.

Six Receive Scholarships At Seminary

The San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo today announced recipients of six scholarships.

Two new scholarships, totaling $1,500 each, have gone to Robert J. Peterson of Glendale, a senior, and to Rev. Sidney D. Skirvin, who completed his senior year last December, and is now pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Nunn, Colo.

Scholarships of $1,000 each have gone to George F. Bott and Gene W. Burris of Seattle; William F. Dittler of New Jersey, and Fred Christen of Pomona. All are seniors at the seminary.

Peterson has received the Seminary Fellowship. After graduation in June he will be ordained as assistant pastor in the Second Presbyterian Church in Long Beach. He will use the fellowship for New Testament studies in Europe.

Rev. Skirvin received the Alumni Fellowship.

The other four students received Lilly Foundation scholarships with $500 each contributed by the seminary and the American Assn. of Theological Schools.

Power Squadron Flag Found On Highway

Anyone lose an ensign? Not the two-legged variety, this one is a U.S. Power Squadron ensign. Deputy Sheriff Bill Bradley found it on Highway 101 Sunday when it had apparently fallen from a trailered boat.

The owner may claim the ensign at the 1203 Third street office of commercial photographer Ken Molino who, as a squadron member, took over from Bradley as temporary custodian.

Try To Get Surplus Wheat Into Mouths Of Hungry

Opening today in Washington are talks between cabinet-level representatives of the five major wheat surplus nations on the so-called "food for peace" program.

The problem is how to distribute the tremendous surpluses of wheat to areas which need them, without seriously harming the export programs of nations producing wheat.

To laymen like us, this seems simple—too simple, we suspect, to be practical. The answer, as we see it, is to send the grain to the hungry people who can't afford to buy it anyway.

If it were that simple, we suppose President Eisenhower would not have launched today's discussions last January in his farm message. Nor would Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker more than a year ago have broached his "food banks" plan for Western Europe as a means of using up surpluses and at the same time insuring against a day when Russian submarines might successfully cut the supply lines to Europe.

Canada is the second greatest exporter of wheat in the world, after the United States. But Canadian exports have been seriously harmed in the past by some of the U.S. barter sales and giveaway plans.

Wheat is the No. 1 surplus crop in the U.S., as well as one of the world's major surplus problems. At the end of February, the U.S. had more than three billion dollars in vested in 1¼ billion bushels of surplus wheat, and the crop estimate for this year indicates another 200 million bushels to be added.

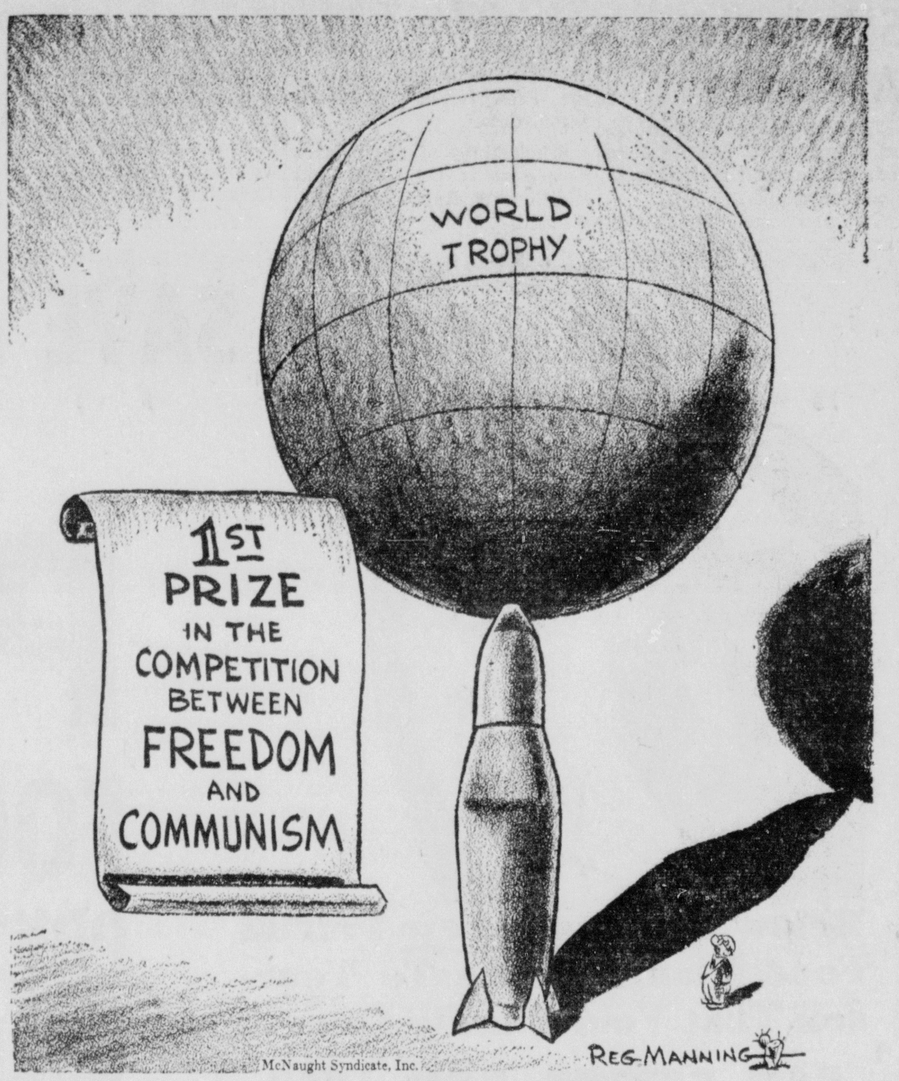

The talks today may not become heated, but they likely will be frank. Australia already has served notice it will fight any giveaway program that threatens to harm its commercial markets. France and Argentina aren't expected to react so bitterly.

Then there's the Big Boy who isn't there, but who undoubtedly will be mentioned. The Soviet Union is the world's largest producer of wheat, two billion bushels last year to 1½ billion for the United States. The Russians have been exporting large amounts to other Communist countries and recently announced they intend to become a major exporter to non-Communist countries as well.

So there is the problem. Billions of bushels of surplus wheat and millions of people starving for lack of it. How to get one to the other, without upsetting apple carts along the way.

Ay, there's the rub!

FOR COLLEGE

A 6-year-old youngster in Oklahoma will not have to worry about working his way through college, thanks to his foresighted father.

The building contractor obtained complete estimates from college officials on any expenses that might be involved in his son's college education, due to start in 1970. He then deposited the necessary amount with the treasurer's office.

Most parents are understandably solicitous of the material needs of their children—food, shelter, clothing, and the physical setup of the educational institutions they attend.

Important as this is, parents would contribute much to the well-being of their children by showing an even greater care for the intellectual and spiritual side of their lives, as God expects them to do.

What young people are taught in school from primary grades to the end of college should be of special concern to every father and mother.

"Hear ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend, that you may know prudence." (Proverbs 4:1)

Give parents, O loving Father, the guidance they need to develop the spiritual power of their children.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Three students from Marin County were selected for membership in Cap and Gown, woman's honor society at Stanford University. They were Margaret Bacon of Kentfield, Barbara Bjornstrom of Mill Valley and Joan Eck of Fairfax.

Tiburon Fire Chief Ed Dunn resigned at a meeting of the Tiburon fire commissioners. He was replaced by Larry Coleman, who was Belvedere fire chief three and one-half years before moving to the Tiburon area.

20 YEARS AGO

Dominican College drama students staged "As You Like It" in celebration of the Golden Jubilee of the educational institution. The event also commemorated the 89th year of the first California school for women's higher education, which was founded by the Dominican Sisters in Monterey.

The San Francisco Girl Scout Council purchased approximately an acre of ground in Madrone Canyon, Larkspur, from Emeline E. Chase. The property was to be used for camp activities, with the cabin serving as headquarters.

FEDERAL LABOR BILL

Halleck Has Job Of Putting Ike's Ideas In

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The job of getting what President Eisenhower wants written into the labor reform bill now before Congress falls to a smartly agile hoosier named Charles A. Halleck.

Halleck is Republican leader of the House of Representatives. The labor bill approved by the Senate, 90-to-1, has gone to the House which may get around to floor consideration of the issue in June.

Smart and agile though he is, Halleck probably would surprise even himself if he were able to ram into the labor legislation a couple of provisions which the President described as "just a feature of decency and justice to the public and to the worker."

"I THINK blackmail picketing is unjustified and I don't think that secondary boycotts should be tolerated," Eisenhower said last Feb. 19. "I think those two features should be right squarely in the bill."

Neither is in the bill as passed by the Senate. Blackmail picketing is a form of extortion used by some unions against employers. Secondary boycotts are imposed on suppliers or customers of struck firms. They can and sometimes do put the struck concern out of business.

The stated objective and general purpose of the Senate bill was to protect union members against their leaders, to safeguard union funds, assure fair elections and free speech. Not much Senate time nor talk was devoted to protection of the employer or of the general public.

SMALL BUSINESS, especially, has a stake in the two features which Eisenhower said should be squarely in the bill. Blackmail picketing and secondary boycotts can be peculiarly effective against the little fellow. That is what Halleck will have to work with in any effort to meet Eisenhower's standards.

As the Senate bill went over to the House, there was a lot of talk, mostly loose, that the representatives could be expected to strengthen the bill. A Republican member of the House Education and Labor Committee suggested that labor legislation in the Senate had been weakened because it had become entangled with presidential politics. That would not happen in the House, he said, and, therefore, the House should come up with a stronger bill.

Could be, of course. But only a few weeks ago Republican congressional leaders did not see it that way at all after a meeting at the White House. Halleck and others said then that it may be "completely impossible" to get a worthwhile labor reform bill from the House committee.

THE LEADERS said the committee alignment of 20 Democrats and 10 Republicans may prevent even getting an effective labor reform bill to the House floor for a vote. The ability of House Republicans to write Eisenhower's two desired features into the bill is wholly doubtful. The House committee has a majority of Northern Democrats who may be expected to oppose any labor proposals which the union leaders seriously oppose.

So, Halleck seems to be stymied in that direction. He may, however, maneuver House deliberations in such a way as to make labor legislation a solid Republican campaign issue in 1960. It is no issue now.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

A Salmon Is A Salmon Whether It's White Or Pink—So They Say

Pale or pink, salmon is salmon.

That's the word from S. J. Sturiale, Sausalito fish wholesaler, who's concerned about the much publicized controversy over this year's pale salmon haul.

"In the spring, quite a few salmon are pale, but there's nothing wrong," Sturiale told us.

He's been in the fish buying business for 30 years, so he ought to know what he's talking about.

"We don't know why," Sturiale said, "but this year there's been a little larger run of the pale fish. Some people don't want to buy them. They think the salmon are sick, but it's not true.

CONSTRUCTION of a northern approach to the new Bon Air Bridge across Corte Madera Creek is proceeding with dispatch. But although the Larkspur City Council awarded a contract early last month, no work is being done on the southern approach, which will link the span with Larkspur's Magnolia avenue.

He said the chief stumbling block is a water main on Magnolia avenue. It passes through a small hill which will require leveling to provide easy access from Magnolia to the bridge approach road.

Before the hill can be leveled, the Marin Municipal Water District must install a new 18-inch main around it. This means calling for bids and letting a contract — and that means delay.

Piper said water district officials, not wishing to hold up the city's road construction job, originally thought of laying a temporary main. But the idea had to be abandoned due to excessive costs.

A SECOND CAUSE of delay, Piper said, is a string of utility poles standing in the Bon Air road extension right of way. These must be moved by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The Larkspur manager estimated it will be another two or three weeks before the water district and utility companies finish these preliminary projects.

"The contractor (O. C. Jones of Berkeley) thought it would be better to have these jobs completed before he starts any work on the road," Piper said.

JOE KUHARICH, the football coach Notre Dame hired because the teams of popular Terry Brennan had the misfortune of losing a few games, claims football isn't overemphasized at the Indiana university.

He said this during a radio interview last week in San Francisco. Then, in the next breath, he equated football with engineering and law as being integral parts of the Notre Dame educational program.

If that isn't overemphasis, we'd like to know what the word means.

BUT THE RADIO quote of the week (sports division) was provided by Don Jordan when sportscaster Don Dunphy interviewed him after he whipped Virgil Akins to retain the welterweight boxing title.

"It was a grueling fight, Don," said Dunphy.

"Thank you very much," Jordan replied.

Some People Just Can't Keep Their Feet From Being Trod On

By FRANCIS STILLEY
For HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It's a big mystery to me, but for some reason people are always stepping on my toes. Literally, I mean.

My feet seem to have a strange attraction for other people's feet.

I can get a shoeshine and in no time at all—crunch—somebody has clumped onto my brogans, leaving a big smudge, if no wounded toes.

Even without a fresh shine, I still get it. But I have found by dint of lengthy investigation and observation that the pedal collisions come faster after a polish—sometimes in less than a minute.

My foot size has nothing to do with it, because I wear an insignificant 7½ shoe. Anybody ought to be able to miss anything that small. Few do.

Even my good wife is an offender. My feet are not sacred even in my own home. She can be standing 10 feet away and the next thing I know she, too, has stepped on them.

And my two youngsters have unerring aim.

Still, I get it from all sides. In the office, on the street, just anywhere. I must be jinxed.

The problem is, what to do?

I COULD SIT on my feet, but there would be times when this would prove something of an inconvenience.

I could quit wearing shoes. This, too, would have its drawbacks, and doubtless broken toes.

Perhaps equip my shoes with spikes. I'd get sued, sure as anything.

KEEP MY FEET in my pockets? Nice trick. I'd even try that if I could be sure somebody would unravel me afterward.

Well, there you are, and here am I, scuffed shoes, sore toes, and all. Maybe somebody knows the answer. I don't.

I think I know now why those knights of old wore those armor-plated suits—and shoes.

What Are Issues In Atomic Test Ban Talks?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

For a number of months now United States-British negotiators on the one hand and Russian on the other have sought workable agreement to ban atomic tests.

The issues go to the core of almost all cold war difficulties.

What are they?

Both sides agree on the danger to future mankind from continued, uncontrolled tests. Both sides profess to believe in the need for agreement, if only to halt one phase of the worldwide armaments race.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

FROM THE STANDPOINT of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted, every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

The issues which face today's negotiators and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban.

The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

ON ISSUE NO. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built in veto — the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice. On point 3, the West believes that nuclear inspection teams should be stopped by foreigners. It believes that nationals of the country concerned could not provide adequate guarantees that agreement was being observed.

Russia has charged that to permit foreign inspectors would mean establishment of a western spy ring in Russia.

The Russians say inspection teams should be called up and sent out only when suspicious phenomenon is recorded.

The West believes the inspection teams should be highly mobile and should be on a stand-by basis.

THE RUSSIANS also demand that any nuclear test band should be permanent. The West wants it on a year-to-year basis and will agree to any ban only after the matter of controls has been settled.

Each of these differences is founded on mutual mistrust.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

W. C. Fields, recalls Fred Russell, rockily entered a neighborhood tavern about 9:30 one morning, and anxiously appealed to the bartender. "Did I come in here last night?" inquired Fields, "and break a hundred-dollar bill, then spend it all on liquor?"

"I'm afraid you did," nodded the bartender.

"Thank heaven!" ejaculated Fields happily. "I was afraid I had lost it."

W. C. Durant, business genius credited with founding General Motors, once had a hard time promoting enough capital for a small plant intended to produce a new model. A suspicious banker poured over the blueprints, and found one plot unmarked. Durant explained it was to be reserved for employes' cars. "Non-sense!" snorted the banker. "Workmen with their own automobiles! We don't do business with a man who entertains such ridiculous notions." Fortunately Durant raised the money elsewhere.

A cocky sailor from a carrier is boasting that he's gone clear round the globe "with Marilyn Monroe on his arm." He adds, "Best darn job of tattooing I've seen in a long time."

HENRY MacARTHUR

There's Question If Brown Labor Bill Will Accomplish What It Wants To

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Although Gov. Edmund G. Brown's much discussed labor bill passed the State Senate without difficulty, and is expected to go through the Assembly in much the same manner, there is still a definite question as to whether the measure accomplishes what it was intended to accomplish.

During the election campaigns, the governor said that if Proposition 18, the Republican-sponsored measure to control labor unions, were defeated, he would offer a bill which would prohibit labor racketeering.

THE PROPOSITION was defeated, and subsequently, the governor entrusted Sen. Stephen Teale (D-Tuolumne) with SB 209, which supposedly was to put an end to racketeering in the unions.

The measure, however, has its flaws, as pointed out by attorneys who have made an exhaustive study of the legislation.

First, it does not apply to unions engaged in interstate operations, a factor which eliminates the greater part of the union membership in California, such as the teamsters, operating engineers and others whose jurisdictions go beyond the state's borders.

A LONG and involved process is required to take disputes to court, if they can get into court at all. Under the bill, disputes are supposed to be handled by the State Director of Industrial Relations, that is, disputes involving union members with their organization.

To get into court, a union member aggrieved with the activities of his union officers, would find it necessary to exhaust his administrative remedies and then if not satisfied, seek a restraining order from the court. By the time this cumbersome process were utilized the member no doubt would be read out of the union.

The same processes would have to be observed if an intra-state union under the jurisdiction of the new legislation failed to live up to the provisions of the law. As it was shown, there are no provisions in the measure to force a union to observe the law if the union chooses to disregard its provisions.

THEN THERE ARE requirements in the legislation that employers file reports of all funds spent in investigative operations against the union. But there are no provisions in the bill requiring the unions to file such reports when the union investigates the employer activity. Thus, the union would be permitted to import goon squads to harass an employer with impunity as far as reporting is concerned.

It is small wonder that the measure favors the unions, as it was written by union representatives. All efforts of employers to secure some kind of a break in the new proposal have been shunted to one side.

Novato Lensmen Win In Contest

Ron won $3 first place money in the live subject category with his picture of a swimming cat. He also won three honorable mentions.

Novato High To Hold All-School Carnival

An all school carnival on May 29 will be the last event of the Novato High School year.

"Every class and club is eligible to operate a booth at the carnival," announced Jackie Sparks, committee chairman.

Juniors Top Sophs After Book Tie

Rapid expansion of the newly opened Novato High School library is assured as a "Book Week" contest closed last week. The final count was 4,693 books collected.

The contest, to see which class could bring in the most books, was originally scheduled to end April 27, but it was carried over several days to run off a tie between the juniors and sophomores.

An inscribed gavel will be awarded to both classes, but the junior class will receive top honors. They gathered 2,061 books to top the sophomore total of 1,343. The Seniors brought in 482 and the freshman class 607; 200 more were brought in after the deadline.

"The newly acquired volumes must be examined by an adult committee before being placed on library shelves," according to NHS principal R. J. McKeay.

"The library contains all sorts of books, but concentrates chiefly on reference books," explained Peter Hartmus, librarian, in speaking of the organization taking place. The fiction will be divided into sections, and the reference books will be set up using the Dewey demical system.

"A card catalog using the Library of Congress cards will be ready in the near future, but until then the reference books cannot circulate," Hartmus said.

Fiction books may be checked out for two weeks.

KQED To Feature SR High Library

San Rafael High School library will go on television Thursday at 4 p.m. over KQED, Channel 9, in an in-service training program for teachers and librarians.

Mrs. Gladys Gearhart, SRHS librarian, with the aid of Mrs. Marian Stump and Edward Day, will tell how teachers, students and librarian work together to make the library more useful.

Day will talk about the collection of art books the San Rafael High School library has, while Mrs. Gearhart shows some of the books on art as well as favorite books of students.

Christmas posters, made by art students, will be displayed by Mrs. Gearhart as she tells of the annual Christmas party, at which the Library Club and assistant librarians act as hostesses each year.

Along with the posters will be pictures of bulletin boards taken by Aura Estes of the science department. Issues of the Wilson Library Bulletin containing pictures of SRHS's library bulletin boards also will be displayed.

Details of a project in "International Cookery," will be explained by Mrs. Nancy Richardson's Home Economics class. The girls investigated eating habits of countries of the world.

During this time they used three shelves of cook books in the school library, as well as books from the county and state libraries and additional information from the consulates of the different countries. After their research, they cooked the food from recipes they discovered.

High School Choirs Sing Next Week

Presenting spring concerts on May 15 and 16 are the Redwood and Sir Francis Drake High School choirs.

"Impresiones of Musica" is the title of the Drake choir program to be staged in the Little Theater on both nights.

"A Showcase of Show Music" will be presented May 15 at 8:15 in the Redwood gymnasium.

Featured attractions in "Impresiones de Musica" will be the school band, orchestra, and choir. Organizers who have sparked the project, Paul Smith and Glen Reznor, said that profits from the tickets soon to go on sale will be added to the student body fund.

The Redwood choir's "Showcase of Show Music" will feature selections from "My Fair Lady," "The Flower Drum Song," "Carousel," "South Pacific," and the Academy Award winner "Gigi." Because show music is popular, Arthur Wigell, the choir's director, believes the audience will enjoy this kind of programming.

Soloists will be Ron Reagan, Shirley McClure, Doug Kneedler, and Virginia Carroll.

The Senior class is assisting with ticket sales and will be credited with the money raised by class members. This will help finance entertainment for the Senior Ball. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Tea Friday For Mothers At Tamalpais

A fashion show featuring costumes from foreign countries will highlight Tam's annual Mothers' Tea, to be given next Friday in Ruby Scott auditorium. The theme of the program, sponsored by the Tamalpais Girls' League, will be "Around the World in Eighty Days."

Clothes for the show will be furnished by Miss Mary McDermott's homemaking class and the College of Marin. Each girl will model the dress she has made. Vicki Emerson will be fashion commentator.

Usherettes will be members of service club Nu Alpha Tau.

Gwen Mason is president of Girls' League. In charge of committees are: Sarah Camp, decorations; Barbara Andino, invitations; Judy Thompson, corsages; Carleita Thomas and Judy Chambers, entertainment.

After the program, refreshments will be served by girls in Pai Alpha Tau, the upperclass service club.

'59 Vote Schedule Told At Novato

Schedule for the Fall '59 student body and class officer elections at Novato High School was announced last week by student committee co-chairmen, Bonnie Russell and Bill McBride. Election date is set for June 3.

May 7 is the first day to apply for office; on May 11 and 12, NHS constitution tests will be given to applicants. May 13 is the first day to take out petitions, and May 18 the last day. Petitions must be turned in by May 28. A candidates assembly will be held June 2, the day before elections.

Executive Members Ra Ravas Named

Linda Schwartzberg was appointed chairman; Carol Hicok, vice chairman; Sherri Tresch, treasurer; and Sally McDermott, secretary. Mrs. Marie Stafford is the faculty advisor.

First Prom At Redwood Is Scheduled

The class of '60 at Redwood High is presenting their Junior Prom, "Quiet Village," on Saturday evening, May 16, first prom in the history of the school. Dress will be semi-formal.

The prom will be held at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. Bids are now on sale.

Acting as master of ceremonies will be radio commentator Donn Pitts. Ralph Mathis, who attends City College of San Francisco and is a brother of the famous Johnny Mathis, will be guest singer.

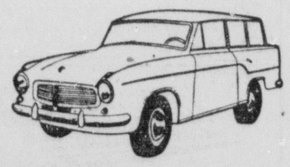

The orchestra will provide dancing music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. A midnight supper will be served.

Shah Meets Margaret, And Takes Several Long Looks

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The Shah of Iran today began an official visit to Britain reportedly with two unofficial problems on his mind—a future wife and closer ties with the West.

The moment the dark-eyed, twice-divorced potentate stepped off his train, some of the very people who could make those dreams—if they are his dreams—come true, appeared before him.

Nobody in London is suggesting a romance between the 39-year-old Mohammedan shah and the Church of England princess.

So, when he hit the carpet at Victoria Station and found

Margaret waiting there, the heads in the diplomat box began to wag.

Margaret has seldom looked lovelier.

The shah took her hand and looked her in the eyes—light blue eyes said to be the most beautiful in England.

It fell on pretty Princess Alexandra, cousin of Margaret and the queen. Then it swung back to Margaret.

She stepped back and Macmillan was presented, then Home Secretary R. A. Butler and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

The shah took a quick glance at Margaret—standing alone in the center of the carpet. It looked as if he might move toward her.

But if he had such plans he was too late.

At this juncture, Prince Philip edged up to Margaret, whispered something in her ear and smilingly escorted her—behind the shah and the queen—to their royal carriages.

IKE AND VISITOR—President Eisenhower bends close for word with Sir Winston Churchill yesterday in the back seat of the presidential limousine as they leave Washington National Airport after the British statesman's arrival. Truman Advises Against Cuts In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman bluntly advised congressional critics of foreign aid today to cut their own salaries rather than skimp on assistance to America's allies.

The ex-president, testifying on President Eisenhower's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid request, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee it would be "playing with dynamite" to slash the program.

MUST HAVE FRIENDS

Truman said it should be perfectly obvious that in the struggle against communism, America must have as many friends and as few enemies as possible.

He said Congress should increase the authorization for the development loan fund, not slash it. Further, he said, this shouldn't be done by skimping on military assistance to friendly nations.

The former president said he did not feel the foreign aid program was a partisan matter, although he had heard "disturbing reports of political partisanship entering into the picture."

CITES IMPORTANCE

Truman said even people who supported the program did not fully realize how important it was.

"Mark this well," he declared. "The mutual security program is not a soft spot in our budget.

"It is not a place where the country can economize in a cheap and easy fashion without hurting anything much. If you start skimping on this program, you are playing with dynamite."

Nearly all earthquakes have resulted from sudden movements of blocks of the earth's crust along breaks called "faults."

Summit Talks Depend On Geneva-Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today a summit conference will be a foregone conclusion of the foreign ministers conference opens the way to easing East-West tensions.

The President also told a news conference once again that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the only man who can deal authoritatively for Russia.

Eisenhower was asked how much progress there would have to be at the Geneva foreign ministers conference beginning Monday to justify a later meeting at the summit.

HOPES FOR PROGRESS

The President replied that he wasn't in a position to give a specific reply, but does hope for some progress at Geneva.

Any development there which gives enlarged hope for decreasing East-West tensions would mean, Eisenhower said, that a later summit session was a foregone conclusion.

The conference brought these comments from Eisenhower on other matters:

Steel — In the long run, the United States can't stand idly by and do nothing about any new wage - price spiral which might stem from the industry's negotiations.

Both labor and management in the steel industry must act with good sense and wisdom.

Truman — Asked whether he feels former President Harry S. Truman has been evading his invitations to the White House, Eisenhower replied he wanted to make one thing clear. Whenever he invites anyone on a personal basis-as distinguished from a formal invitation-he always emphasizes he will understand if the man invited is unable to attend.

Politics — The President said he hopes the 1960 Republican presidential nominee will win even more votes in Southern states than he did in 1952 and 1956.

WHITE HOUSE VISITOR

Churchill Still Can Cast His Old Spell

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill cast his spell over the White House today, operating from an imposing four-poster bed in the second floor residential quarters of President Eisenhower.

Befitting his age of 84 and a long-standing distaste for the earlier hours of the day, the doughty old warrior from Great Britain let it be known that one of his famous habits had not changed — he would not be stirring until early afternoon.

Sir Winston, jabbing the floor with his gold-headed cane and wagging his famous "V" signal, walked falteringly on the arm of the President into the White House late yesterday to begin a sentimental visit with his old comrade-in-arms of World War II.

The President planned a relatively small stag dinner for Sir Winston tonight, and a larger stag affair tomorrow night. On Thursday, Churchill will move to the British Embassy for one night before returning to London via New York.

Eisenhower seemed moved by Churchill's enfeebled condition.

At the airport yesterday where the President went to welcome his guest personally, and again as they entered the White House together, the President grasped Sir Winston's arm in strong physical support.

This was no back-slapping gesture of friendship, but something more in the manner of a dutiful son helping an infirm elder. Churchill showed the sad erosion of age and a life of crises in his slow step, his pronounced stoop.

But there was nothing slow or stooped about the deft rapier he used rhetorically against another World War II figure who has been speaking critically of Eisenhower lately.

Whether Churchill meant it or not, his listeners got the clear impression that he was taking a swipe at British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, who recently deplored the state of Ensenhower's health and low-rated present American leadership.

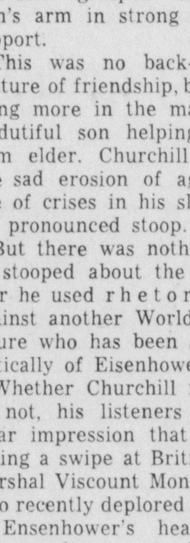

"I always love coming to America," said Sir Winston, his voice rich and resonant over the loudspeaker system at the airport. "But I shall not say, as most people who are traveling nowadays about the world seem to do, everything I think."

Anti-Death Penalty Measure Softened

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel), taking careful note of Assembly rejection of a bill to halt California executions, has taken most of the starch out of his bill to abolish the death penalty.

Farr amended the bill yesterday to permit execution of everyone already sentenced to die. It would also permit executions of police killers, second-time murderers and murderers who juries decide could not be rehabilitated.

If Dodgers Continue Doing Well, Entire National League Will Profit

CONNOLLY

It is interesting, maybe we should say significant, that the Los Angeles Dodgers should be riding high in the National League flag chase. Our bitter rivals are at least recovering from a state of shock that was unusual last year.

And from the looks of things, the Dodgers are doing right well and hefty. But what amuses me most of all is the complacency of the Giants to such goings on.

I haven't heard even a rumble from Boss Bill Rigney or owner Horace Stoneham about the Dodgers.

From all reports the fact that the Los Angeles Dodgers are doing so well is going to make it real healthy for the rest of the National League teams.

"Keep the Dodgers UP THERE and everybody in the league is going to make money," one critic says.

"JUST IMAGINE," my fran states, "what could happen if they won the pennant and got into the world series.

Which brings me back to the days when the late Howard Harding Jones was master minding the University of Southern California Trojan football team.

They used to say of him that "Jones ranks as the most pampered darling of the gridiron and no producer in Hollywood history ever had such a galaxy of yes men around him.

"To the University of Southern California he represented a tremendous investment, or buildup, and he rated the loving care of a Shirley Temple or a Charlie McCarthy."

And that goes double this year for the Dodgers if they are able to stay on top, or near the top, in the present National League pennant race.

IT WAS QUITE satisfying to see the reaction of the United States Golf Assn. to the Las Vegas Calcutta pool setup. In fact, the USGA bigwigs are considering squashing the gambling phase of the tournament.

But likewise it was funny to see what the Las Vegas folks had to say about USGA ideas.

Among the hardened old golf pros in favor of the Calcutta pools, only one was outspoken. And that was Gene Sarazen, who can't see any harm to the sport.

All his life Sarazen has played the field and very well in golf. He has been one of its most outstanding players and winners.

And if Sarazen can't see any pressure on the players or any danger to the game, then all I can say is that Mr. Sarazen is slipping.

Calcutta pools in Gene's heyday were insignificant. Today they are dangerous.

TOM GALLERY, the director of sports for the National Broadcasting Co., an old pal and once matchmaker for the Hollywood fight club, was a footsie with me in the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions.

Gallery is the head man who says yes or no for all sports on TV. And he is a rabid sportsman.

"How do you like your job," sezzi to Gallery.

"I'm ashamed to say it, but I'm really taking money under false pretenses," Tom remarked.

"If I was idle and could afford it, I'd pay the NBC for the right to do the work I am doing."

Fights, ball games, rasslin', golf games and bowling are on TV regularly because the head of the NBC—Tom Gallery—is a sports fan all the way down the line.

S.F. Regains League Lead

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Sam Jones (2-3) is manager Bill Rigney's nominee to pitch for league-leading San Francisco tonight against Cincinnati and there's always a chance the Giants will win another so long as the ninth inning isn't outlawed.

True to form, San Francisco exploded for four runs in the last frame last night to down the Redlegs, 6-5, and regain first place in the National League, which is turning into another rat race. In second place, nine points behind them, are the Los Angeles Dodgers, who open a four game series in Seals Stadium Thursday.

The Dodgers, who spent most of last season racking up the league champ Milwaukee Braves, beat them last night in their first meeting of the year, 5-3. This dropped Milwaukee into third spot but only a half-game out of first.

Jim Davenport, a little guy with a lot of power, was the big man in last night's uprising against the Reds. With the bases loaded in the ninth and San Francisco trailing 3-2, Davenport belted a double that cleared the sacks.

DECIDING RUN

Then Willie Kirkland singled him across with what proved to be the deciding run.

Kirkland, who has been a good clutch man recently despite a low average, got another single during the game while hanging onto Jackie Brandt's spot in left field. Jack, currently riding out a slump, appeared in a pinch hit role during the ninth and forced Felipe Alou at the plate.

Kirkland's hit came off reliever Bob Mabe, who took over after Bob Purkey, the loser, had been tapped for Davenport's double.

JONES GETS WIN

Gordon Jones got the win but didn't pitch the ninth, which saw Cincinnati nearly pull the rug from under the visitors. Cincinnati scored twice off Al Worthington, who gave up a home run to Frank Thomas, then a double to Gus Bell which tallied another run. Jack Sanford, one of Rigney's prize starters, came on to get Roy McMillan for the last out.

Rigney wasn't around at the end. Umpire Frank Secory chased him in the eighth for protesting after the arbiter had cautioned Jones for hitting Purkey with a pitched ball.

Giants, Reds In Row Over Tight Pitches

CINCINNATI (AP)—San Francisco is leading the National League and mild rhubarb is brewing between the Giants and the Cincinnati Reds.

Giant manager Bill Rigney complained that Bob Purkey always seemed to have control trouble when pitching against Willie Mays last year. He claimed Willie was ducking and weaving all season.

When the clubs met last night for the first time at Crosley Field, Mays went down in the first inning to get away from an inside pitch by Purkey. Again in the eighth he hit the dirt.

When Gordon Jones, the second Giant pitcher, hit Purkey in the back with a pitch in the eighth inning, plate umpire Frank Secory made gestures that added up to "That's enough of that stuff."

Rigney came charging from the bench. In the ensuing argument, Rigney was chased. The Giants eventually won, 6-5.

In the clubhouse after the game, Rigney told writers, "Mays was on his back twice and nobody said anything. If we come close to them, it's a big argument."

Mays took it all calmly. "Why, you know pitchers never throw at a hitter," he said with a straight face.

Over in the Reds' clubhouse, Purkey denied he had thrown any knockdown pitches.

"I've got good enough control," he said. "If I wanted to hit anybody, I could do it."

RIGNEY REACTION:

'Bit Crowded Up Top This Year'

CINCINNATI (AP)—"It is going to be a little bit crowded up there this season."

That was manager Bill Rigney's reaction to the National League after seeing his San Francisco team move into first place.

"Milwaukee is a rugged ball club," said Rig. "They crash that ball real good. Maybe they have a little edge in pitching. If you get a fellow like Joey Jay out of there, they come in with Bob Bush. Cincinnati has that terrific power but they need a little pitching."

"Chicago can score runs. Don't sell them short. They have a relief pitcher in Don Elston who is just about as good as you would want. He can keep that ball low and over the plate. Los Angeles got off a lot better. If that Dick Stuart hits, Pittsburgh is going to be tough."

And the Giants?

"Our pitching is 50 per cent better. The two pitchers Jack Sanford and Sam Jones, make us. Jack, Sam and Johnny Antonelli ought to be able to handle 700 innings. Then we have Mike McCormick to round out the starting four, plus Stu Miller.

"I like to have a little leeway with Stu. I might start him against certain hitters in a tough spot. Without taking a regular turn in every series I think I can get more out of him.

"Our outfield is the best I ever saw. Right now, I'm letting Jackie Brandt sit out a couple of days and playing Willie Kirkland.

"But with Brandt in left, Willie Mays in center and Felipe Alou in right, not many bayys fall in. They cover so much ground they criss-cross back of one another.

"Jim Davenport on third base is a real steady ball player. He is a good man with a bat. You saw how he beat the Reds last night with that three-run double.

"The big man (Orlando Cepeda) will do plenty of smashing but I think Daryl Spencer will do better at second than at short and I am counting on Andre Rodgers to make it at short. I took him out for a few days to relax him. Now he is swinging the bat better.

"Our catching is good with Bob Schmidt and Hobie Landrith. I am not saying that we are set. Everybody is looking, especially for pitching. You never have enough.

"But like I said earlier, it is going to be a little bit crowded up here this season."

Rest Of League Enjoys Collapse Of Yankees

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The world champion New York Yankees have collapsed because they aren't hitting, and the rest of the American League is enjoying the fun while it lasts.

Those were the conclusions drawn today from a poll by United Press International among managers and general managers of other A. L. teams about the woes of the Yankees, who have lost nine of their last 10 games and are seventh in the league, lower than they have been at this stage of the pennant race in the last 19 years.

But general manager Frank Lane of the league-leading Cleveland Indians, who admits gleefully, "I'm enjoying their trouble," isn't so sure the Yankees' trouble is temporary.

"Maybe some of those players George Weiss and Casey Stengel thought were so wonderful aren't so good," said Lane. "Weiss thinks everybody who puts on a Yankee uniform immediately is worth $100,000."

"I know it won't last," commented new owner Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox. "But you can't blame me for thinking how wonderful it would be to see them stay down there."

Almost every manager and club official UPI talked to pointed at once to the Yankees' puny batting as the reason for their tumble. The figures are damning: Only 2.5 runs scored per game during the current slump, only three home runs from home run champion Mickey Mantle, a team total of four home runs less than the total for the supposedly weak Washington Senators.

Remember those "big innings" the Yankees made famous? They haven't scored more than five runs in any of their last 110 innings.

"They just aren't hitting," said manager Harry Craft of Kansas City. "They used to beat you in the eighth and ninth or extra innings. But they are losing those close ones now."

"Casey's hitters just aren't hitting," said new manager Jimmie Dykes of Detroit, and the same comment came in the same words from almost every skipper in the league.

Including Stengel. In a statement surprisingly clear for him, the Yankee manager summed up his troubles this way:

"We've been very weak with the batting and very weak with the pitching. But it's only the first time for the pitchers because they have been doing very good up to now. I can't solve the batting."

Dykes put it right up to Stengel last Sunday when they met at home plate before the doubleheader which the Tigers swept from the Yankees.

"Hey Case," said Dykes. "What's wrong with the magic?"

"We can't do it in nine innings no more," grunted Stengel. "Now we gotta go 12 and 14 innings to lose 'em."

Close Pitching Spices N. L. Lead Scramble

By ASSOCIATER PRESS

Brush back pitches and dusters now are spicing the hot National League pennant scramble that has seen the lead change hands three times in three days.

San Francisco and Cincinnati grappled in one of the double-bladed duels last night as the Giants put across four ninth-inning runs, then stood off a rally by the Reds for a 6-5 victory. That hoisted the Giants back into the lead, by a mere .009 percentage points over Los Angeles.

Los Angeles closed in by dropping Milwaukee from first to third with a 5-3 victory over the Braves and southpaw Warren Spahn, the ace the Dodgers always trump.

Pittsburgh reached .500 for the first time and took fifth place from Chicago by beating the Cubs 2-1 in the only other NL game scheduled.

Enter Coast Relays

Few Bright Spots In State As Trout Season Opens

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bad weather hurt fishing generally, but there were a few bright spots on the opening weekend of the 1959 trout season.

Among the happy exceptions reported by the state Fish and Game Department was the Mono-Inyo area, where some 50,000 anglers tried their luck over the weekend. At Crowley Lake there were 3,300 boats on the lake by 7 a.m. in 28-degree cold. The fishermen were rewarded with 41,000 pounds of trout.

It was an unusually honest opener with not a single over-limit case reported by wardens.

Other bright spots:

Dwinelle Reservoir in Siskiyou County, where 204 anglers caught 438 fish weighing up to one and three-quarters pounds and 13-20 inches long.

Fishermen averaged eight to 10 fish on Hume and Sequoia Lakes in Sequoia National Park near Fresno.

In the coastal region, there were many near-limit catches on Phoenix, Bon Tempe and Lagunitas reservoirs.

Not many tried the new Mendocino Lake east of Ukiah, but those who did were satisfied.

WCAC Schedules Christmas Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The West Coast Athletic Conference will stage its first Christmas basketball tournament this year in the University of San Francisco's Memorial Gym.

The seven WCAC teams plus independent Seattle will participate in the Dec. 26, 28, 29 and 30 tournament.

Games Housing Reported Good

SQUAW VALLEY (AP)—Olympic planners told prospective winter game spectators today that plenty of housing will be available next year, especially for those that stay more than one night.

"Anybody who wants housing will be taken care of," said Max Dunn, assistant executive director of the winter games. "If we have a problem, it will be taking care of folks who want to spend only one night in the area."

Dunn made his statement after housing director Bob McMahon released figures showing accommodations for 35,721 within a radius of 50 miles of this 1960 Winter Olympic site. Prices range from $5 to $12.50 per person per night. "Accommodations" in the planner's parlance means pillow space rather than beds or rooms.

GIVE YOUR CHILDREN A CHANCE!

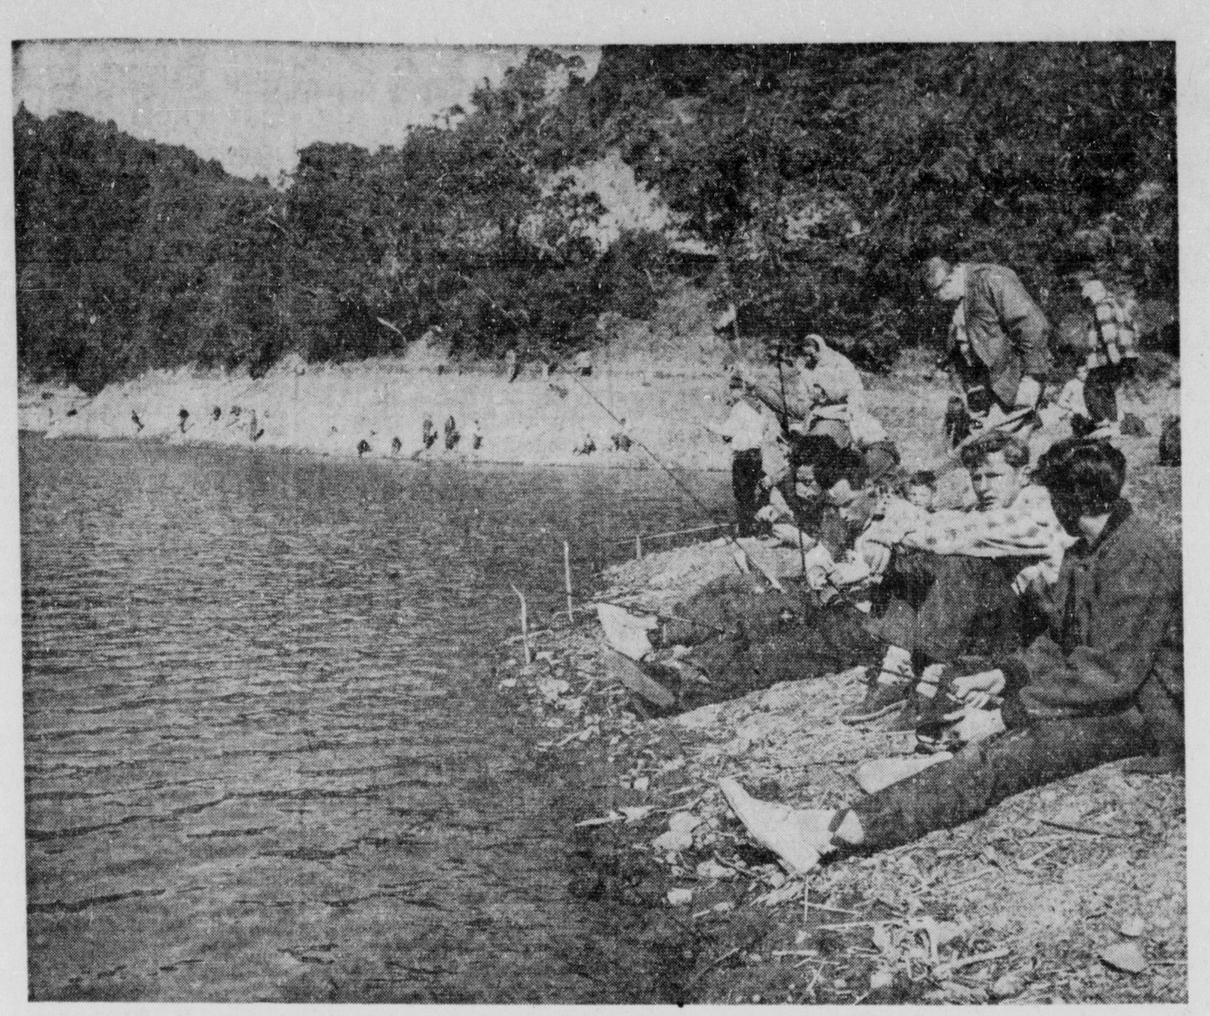

Polio isn't licked yet! In fact, among children not vaccinated, paralytic polio cases actually increased in 1958 over 1957. More one-year-olds were stricken than any other age group.

If your youngsters are still not protected against this feared disease, insist that they start and complete the full series of polio shots NOW.

The 1959 polio season is fast approaching. The sooner your children are polio-protected, the safer their futures will be. And since polio strikes all ages—be sure to get your shots, too. See your doctor or health department NOW.

BIG TURNOUT FOR TROUT SEASON OPENER

NICE CATCH—These happy young San Anselmo lads show how they fared on the opening of trout season at Phoenix lake. They are James Caiati, 11, left and Tony Rivara, 12. Thanks to the Department of Fish and Game's trout planting program in Marin Municipal Water District lakes, thousands of anglers enjoyed good fishing opening day.

Closed Circuit TV Likely For Patterson-Swede Bout

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Look for an announcement soon that the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight will be telecast into theaters and arenas.

TelePrompTer appears to have clinched the deal with promoter Bill Rosensohn, a former TPT executive, for the TV rights to the June 25 international scrap in Yankee Stadium. The closed circuit telecast will not be beamed into your living room.

Patterson, incidentally, is only a 13-5 favorite now to beat the undefeated Swede who holds the European championship.

MEXICO'S Gaspar Ortega and Rudell Stitch of Louisville will have it out in a return bout at Syracuse, N.Y., Friday night in the television headliner (NBC). Ortego won by a hairline, one-point decision in their first meeting at New York last Feb. 6.

The unlucky Mexican Indian suffered cuts in that clash and has been sidelined since. Gaspar's record is 49-14-2, including 20 kayos. Stitch's record is 19-5, including 10 kayos.

SLUMPING Joey Giardello, once the leading middleweight contender, hopes to break his three-fight losing streak tomorrow night. The Brooklyn veteran, however, will be up against another anxious fighter in Holly Mims of Washington. Mims was beaten in his last effort by Bobby Boyd.

Giardello's record is 75-16-5, including 26 kayos. Mims' record is 45-17-6, including 11 kayos.

Sugar Ray May Go To Europe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sugar Ray Robinson, dethroned as middleweight champion by the National Boxing Assn. and threatened by the New York State Athletic Commission, may seek sanctuary in Europe.

"I've been offered a big guarantee by promoter Fritz Gretschell of Berlin to defend my title against Gustav Scholz if I'm forced out of my own country," said Sugar Ray today.

Scholz of Germany is the fourth-ranking contender, but he has been rejected as challenger by both the NBA and the New York commission. Each organization insisted that 39-year-old Robinson defend against Carmen Basilio of Chittenango, N. Y.

The NBA vacated Robinson's 160-pound championship yesterday because of his excessive delay in signing for a defense against Basilio. And the independent New York commission probably will follow suit if he fails to sign by May 15 for a Basilio match.

Nat'l Guardsmen To Give Sixto Moral Support In Oakland Bout

Sixto Rodriguez, the San Anselmo light heavyweight box-fighter, faces a real tiger in his next outing Thursday night at Oakland Auditorium, but he'll have plenty of moral support in the audience.

Sixty-eight of Sixto's fellow National Guardsmen from Company D, Fairfax, will trek to the fight—in uniform—to cheer Rodriguez in his 10-rounder against dangerous Junius Washington.

Their main-event meeting will feature the charity card sponsored by Moham Temple for the benefit of the Southern Alameda County Retarded Children's building fund and the Grace Youth Center of San Francisco.

Also in the future book for Rodriguez is a guaranteed rematch with Monroe Ratliff, the San Diego light heavy who took Rodriguez' state championship away from him by a 12-round decision. That was Sixto's only loss.

VIRTUALLY ALL of the 64,000 year-old silver salmon planted in Papermill Creek last November have migrated to sea, Department of Fish and Game officials discovered over the opening weekend of trout season.

The plant was made to rejuvenate the run of fish in the Marin stream and the discovery that they'd gone to sea pleased Department officials. Many will return next November as two-year-olds and the bulk will return the following November as three-year-olds.

For a while officials feared the planted fish would not make it to sea, but a check of the area opening weekend proved otherwise. Game Warden Al Giddings described the planting test "highly successful."

PHOENIX AND LAGUNITAS lakes produced the most trout opening weekend while the other lakes were mediocre and Papermill slow, except for about six or eight nice steelhead.

On opening day at Papermill veteran angler Joe Fenton of North San Pedro road, San Rafael got a 20-inch lunker on a No. 8 bucktail fly. He also had nine other smaller fish to make his limit.

MARIN YOUTHS 16 years old and younger who plan to apply for a California hunting license this summer had better be sure to get their Hunter Safety Training certificate, as required by state law.

The Marin Sheriff's Junior Rifle Club will sponsor a HST course at the San Rafael police range the next two Saturdays, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. This is a good time to get your instructions and qualify for a state license.

Ebbetts Pass Road Now Open Again

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The snow-blocked Ebbetts Pass highway was open to traffic today between Lake Alpine and State Highway 89.

The State Division of Highways also reported that Sonora Pass, closed over the weekend, has been reopened.

Tomy Lee Taken Out Of Preakness

LOUISVILLE, KY. (UPI) — Kentucky Derby winner Tomy Lee turned his back on racing's triple crown today, leaving the others to fight it out in the Preakness and the Belmont.

The little English-bred colt was taken out of contention for the $150,000 Preakness yesterday after trainer Frank Childs and owner Fred Turner, Jr., Midland, Tex., decided he would not be ready for the May 16 classic at Old Pimlico in Baltimore, Md.

The trainer, who has indicated Tomy Lee will be pointed for the Hollywood Derby June 27, said the colt may be sent back east if the West Coast campaign goes well.

River Watched For Rest Of Drowned Family

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Oregon and Washington law officers were watching the Columbia River today for the bodies of the rest of the Ken Martin family of Portland.

The remains of two children, Susan, 10, and her sister, Virginia, 12, have been found in the river. Still missing are Ken Martin, 54, his wife, 48, and another daughter, Barbara, 14.

The Martins vanished Dec. 7 while on an automobile trip up the Columbia River for Christmas greens: No trace of them was found until Susan's body was picked up Sunday near Camas, Wash., a few miles upstream from here.

Do-It-Yourself Guide To Incorporation

BERKELEY (UPI) — Want to start a new city or expand the one you have ?

The University of California's bureau of public administration has published a do-it-yourself guide which provides a step-by-step outline of annexation or incorporation procedures, including sample legal forms and documents.

The study kit is entitled "Annexation? Incorporation? — A Guide for Community Action." Authors Stanley Scott and Lewis Keller of the League of California Cities say it can be used, preierably with expert outside assistance, by citizen's study groups on local problems.

On a recent quiz program broadcast in Germany, one question was: "If the Rhine consisted of beer instead of water, how many glassfuls would it hold?" The answer accepted was 4,000 billion pints.

Marin To Take Part In CD Test Friday

What will happen to Marin if a bomb is dropped 14 miles east of the courthouse in San Rafael?

NATIONWIDE ALERT

It is part of a nationwide alert, with each county in California working as a separate entity—each one considering a bomb that theoretically will drop 14 miles east of its courthouse.

Jensen said that in the past in the annual exercise, the federal government delivered a sealed envelope on the bomb drop, and gave other "secret" information. Firemen and policemen were sent into action, and radio networks were abuzz.

"The value of it," he said, "will be to check out on paper our resources. It's valuable to get the service chiefs together. For instance, to see how many bulldozers and how many fire trucks could be sent into action."

FALLOUT EFFECT

He said Charles Dresia, civil defense radiological expert, will be on hand to determine what effect fallout from such a bomb would have on Marin. For example, said Jensen, he will determine whether the San Rafael waterfront has been wiped out by fire, and if fallout is deadly as far as Woodacre.

"Last time a test was held," Jensen said, "we were wiped out. The test specified that the wind was blowing north, which it does only about 3 per cent of the time, and it was all over before we had a chance."

After the meeting Friday, Jensen will fill out questionnaires on action taken and forward the replies to Sacramento for consolidation in a California report to Washington.

Friday's Marin test will place the bomb drop somewhere in the region of the eastern part of San Pablo Bay on in northern Contra Costa County. That county's drop will be 14 miles east of Martinez.

CLASSROOM SPANKING BILL FAVORED

The committee yesterday approved a bill by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) to have school boards adopt rules for spankings and other forms of punishment for school children who upset classroom discipline.

Mrs. Morris Cantley of San Bernardino said, "Someone should be here to speak for the children. This bill would return us to the dark ages of education. You can't learn in an atmosphere of fear."

Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont), a former teacher, said, "Do it in kindness but go ahead and paddle 'em. It'll make 'em grow up to be sweeter citizens."

Now You Can Dial Direct To Las Vegas

That brightly-lit oasis in the southern Nevada desert, Las Vegas, can now be dialed direct from San Rafael telephones, Pacific Telephone manager, W. W. Miller, said today.

Las Vegas is in the 702 dialing area, he said, and all numbers to be called in that city must be prefixed with those three numbers.

Governor Signs Law Ending Cross-Filing

That's the same as every other state which has a direct primary.

Since 1913 Californians have been able to vote for either Democrats or Republicans—if the candidates for both parties "cross-filed." And they usually did.

The legislation reduces from 3 to 2 per cent the percentage of the statewide vote required for a political party to remain on the ballot. The Prohibitionists failed to get 3 per cent last year.

The cross-filing repeal, longtime goal of the Democratic Party, was pushed through the first Democratic-controlled Legislature in 70 years by votes of 49-29 in the Assembly and 22-15 in the Senate.

Predicted Jam Hasn't Come In Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislative logjam predicted by opponents of Proposition 9 last November hasn't developed.

A total of 265 new bills was introduced yesterday, the deadline under new ground rules provided by passage of Proposition 9.

It pushed the total bills put in so far this session to 4,397. But in 1957, when free bill introduction was limited to just 30 days, there were 6,863 measures introduced.

Proposition 9 repealed the 30-day limit and also did away with the February recess. The Legislature itself, by a joint rule, limited bill introductions to the first 120 days of the 166-day session.

From now on it takes permission of the Rules Committee and two-thirds of the membership of either house to get a new bill in the hopper.

Proposition 9 also provided that no action could be taken on any bill until 30 days after its introduction, except with consent of three-fourths of either house.

Governor, Labor Spokesman Clash On Beer Tax Hike

Brown is out to raise the beer levy by 10 million dollars a year. The California Federation of Labor has consistently opposed what it terms another whack at consumers.

The governor's office, preparing for an Assembly committee hearing Thursday night, gave its case for boosting the tax from 2 to 7 cents a gallon in a statistical analysis distributed to all legislators.

The statement makes these other points:

Asked for comment, C. J. Haggerty, secretary-treasurer of the labor federation, said he didn't dispute the figures.

"But it is another consumer tax, and we will oppose it for that reason," he said.

Cab Drivers Face Car Theft Trial

Two young Mill Valley cab drivers, who drove off with their boss's three sons and a cab on April 6, face a jury trial for car theft on June 2 in Marin Superior Court.

Frank Dewey Lacey, 21, and Rodney Davis Allen, 23, were arrested in Bakersfield in a car stolen from Tracy. When caught by highway patrolmen, they said they were headed for Arkansas because the three boys wanted to go there.

The three youngsters are the sons of Verl H. Hinkle of 10½ Locust avenue, Mill Valley, who owns a cab company. Hinkle said he had let Lacey, his nephew, use a cab so that he could take the three boys to a movie.

Couple Denies Aiding Elopement

Mr. and Mrs. Otis C. Holmes of Tormey, Contra Costa County, denied yesterday they had contributed to the delinquency of a 15-year-old Ross girl, who eloped to Reno with their son, Jack Watson Jr. last November.

A court trial for the Holmes is set tentatively for June 16 at 10 a.m. in Marin Superior Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes are suspected of driving the girl as far as Sacramento. Watson and the girl then went to Reno and were married, but the marriage has since been annulled because the girl did not have her parents' consent.

This small world gets bigger every year

The exciting world within a drop of oil keeps growing as we make discoveries that bring new and better products into your world.

Even now, these products enter every hour of your day — from automotive fuels and lubricants to synthetic fibers for blankets you sleep under at night and clothes you wear during the day.

Wax containers that preserve food; plastics, paints, photographic film, detergents, medicines, synthetic rubber and thousands of other items for farms, homes, industry and the Armed Forces now are made better because of oil ingredients which Standard supplies to manufacturers.

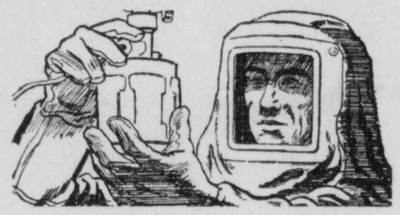

But there's more in oil's future — much more. And so last year, as every year, one of our biggest jobs was finding ways to make oil serve you better — using research to create new and improved products, and building facilities to put these products to work.

To help meet your growing demand for petroleum products, we invested $235 million for exploration and development in 21 states of the U.S. and 12 other Western Hemisphere countries.

Our research and technical service staff has grown to 1400 people. Today we make more than 1000 products not sold 15 years ago. During that time our research budget more than tripled.

Producing and distributing products takes continuing investments in new refinery equipment, pipelines, tankers, trucks and trailers. Last year, $108 million went into these new facilities.

Our 38,395 employees were paid $281 million in wages and benefits. Standard's 152,754 stockholders received nearly 4¢ for each dollar of the market value of stockholdings.

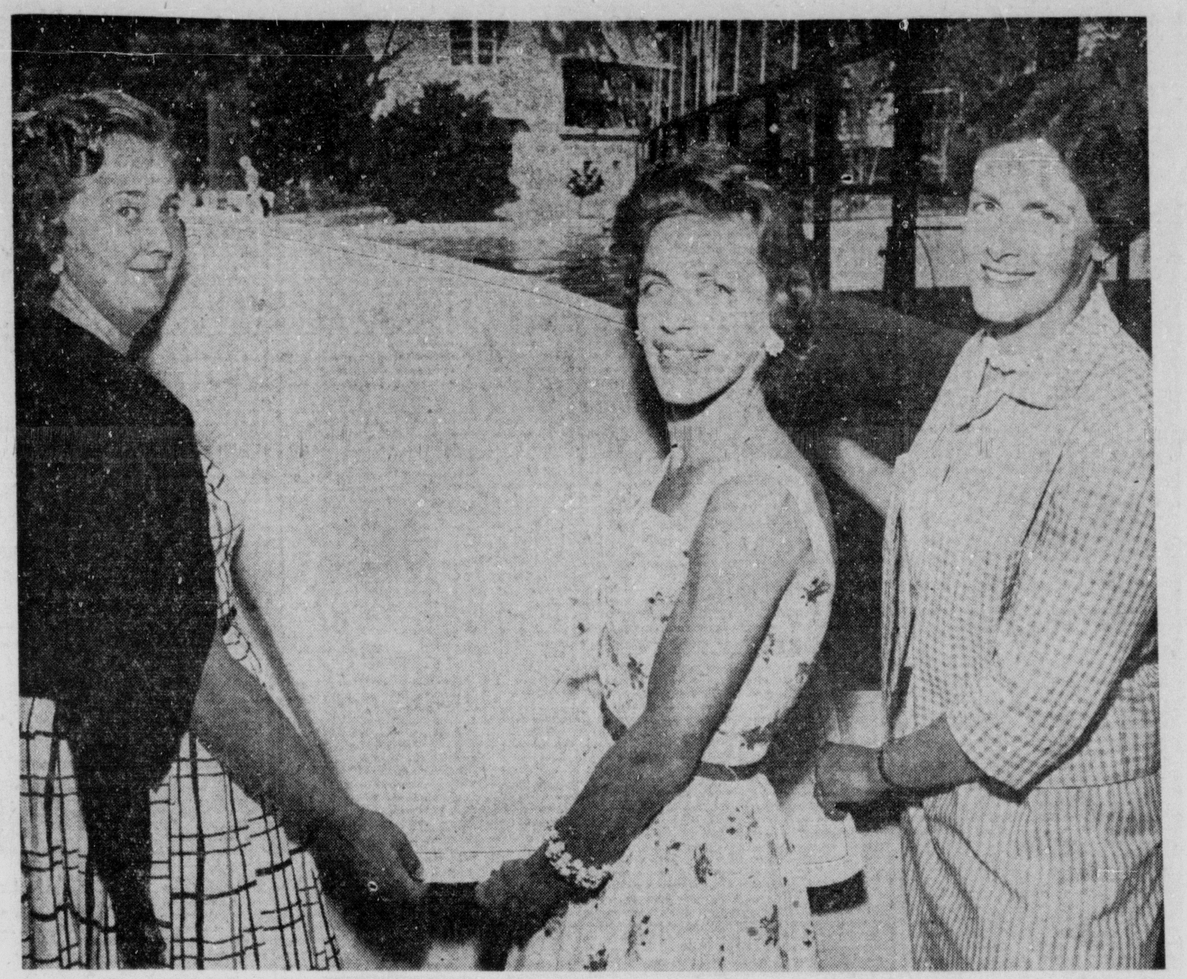

Standard was one of the largest customers in the West. Our purchases included 50,000 items... helped provide jobs and payrolls for more than 10,000 firms in hundreds of Western communities.

Through affiliates, we helped advance progress in more than 70 free Eastern Hemisphere countries. Oil development helps provide jobs; supplies funds for education, health and housing.

Novato Pupils Are Encouraged To Read

Can Novato youngsters read? How much does your child read? Marion School teachers and parents are finding out that their youngsters can read, and with a little encouragement, will read a lot.

Under the auspices of the Marion School P-TA, students of Marion School from the third grade through the sixth are reading books and joining the Library Club of America, a national organization.

By reading four books and reporting to a book mother or teacher these youngsters may join the Library Club and receive a membership pin. When they have read 12 books they receive an honor pin, and after 22 books they become life members of the Library Club.

After a child has read a book, chosen from the school library or the Marin County Library, he must give a report on it to a "book mother" or a teacher and get his slip signed to have his book counted toward a pin. Each child may report on not more than two books a week.

A "book mother" is a mother chosen in each neighborhood to whom the youngsters may go and make their reports.

Mothers are: Westridge, Mesdames Frank Rauschkolb and L. B. Griffith; Rancho Village, Gale Westerdoll, J. S. Rose, Albert Larin, J. L. Hodges, and E. T. Fagnani; Marin Village, Roy Lawhead, Alfred McElroy, Mr. William Melson and Mrs. George Pelmera; Nave Gardens, Mesdames George Curtis, Edward Roberts, and Don Swan; Myers Tract, Lewis Skrowronek, J. B. Crumpler, Marshall Johnson and Ralph Heath; Simmons-Marin Heights, Victor Palmer, F. E. Chamberlin, E. P. Kelly, and R. C. Beebe; Virginia avenue, E. N. Fredricksen, George Homenko and J. J. Cassil; and Marion School Area, Tauno Sjoblom, Charles Lavaroni, William Glosser, Mel Federlein, F. J. Picchi, Fred Pechner and Parker Abbott.

This Library Club was organized at Marion School in March under the direction of Mrs. William Melson, library chairman for the P-TA and is now being carried on by Mrs. Alfred McElroy, with the help of Earl Farris, principal, and Marion School teachers.

Off To Hospital?

DENVER (UPI)—The National Jewish Hospital says the three most important points to remember when preparing a child for his first hospitalization are:

—Tell him why he is going to the hospital as simply as possible. What a child knows he is less likely to fear.

Beginners' sessions in the basic fundamentals of folk and square dancing held every Wednesday at the Carpenters' Hall 647 Lindaro street in San Rafael from 8 to 9:30 p.m. will remain open tomorrow for one more night of enrollment.

The lively and enthusiastic group of beginners attending the last session commenced the mastering of the two-step and had an unexpected preview of a dance by the Marin Whirl-Aways and other Marin dancers, under the direction of Joe Angeli, to be performed at the mountain play "The Pied Piper of Hamlin" to be given on Sunday, May 17, at 2 p.m. Dan Tothero is producer.

Plans were also discussed by club members Ralph and Hazel Shera, Helen Buckle, George Ennis, Charlotte Yonkers, Frank Chaponot and Marie Angeli for a get-acquainted party to be given at the new dancing locale.

The Marin Whirl-Aways invite all would-be folk and square dancers to join in the fun while learning by enrolling at the last open night for beginners' ten week course.

NO HEADACHES FOR THE MOTORIST

Motorists may throw their parking worries to the wind when shopping at the Terra Linda Shopping Center, where 240 individual parking stalls stand ready to ease the customer's chores. The modern-styled marketplace is situated on more than five acres. Here, looking northward from near Scotty's Market, is seen the center's row of shops and stores, all easily accessible to motorist and pedestrian shopper. (Independent-Journal photo)

Terra Linda Shopping Center Houses 13 Businesses, Parking For 240 Cars

Within the span of three years, the Terra Linda Shopping Center has risen, in progressive stages, on five acres at Del Ganado road and Manuel T. Freitas parkway. Today it stands as a nearly complete neighborhood market place, offering goods and services to residents from throughout the Los Gallinas Valley.

Thirteen businesses operate in adjacent and modern offices and stores. A service station, the first structure to rise on the site, is separated from the center's main row of shops by a parking lot with a capacity of 240 automobiles.

Total value of the land and buildings approaches $750,000, according to Robert Greene, of Tamarin Realty, who has managed leasing and arrangements for the property owners.

Merchants of the center speak optimistically about the future of the area. Joseph Bregante, co-owner of Scotty's Market, which opened for business at the center in January of 1957, says "business has lived up to our greatest expectations."

Developers of the property have insisted that the types of businesses included in the center offer a full range of goods and services, but with a minimum of overlapping.

The result is that today the center includes, besides a grocery store and service station, the following: a variety store, a doughnut and ice cream shop, a real estate office, a barber shop, a beauty salon, a jewelry store, dry cleaners, a hardware store, a drug store and fountain, a liquor store and a printing-publishing firm.

A nursery is also scheduled to open soon, according to Greene. A branch bank is planned and with the future addition of a radio and television store and an apparel store, the center will be complete.

The center, designed by Hall and Hoffman of San Rafael, has grown in successive stages, with building additions going up after merchants signed leases. Architect Gordon Phillips and engineer Robert Kane, both of San Rafael, prepared plans for the center.

Contractors, also of San Rafael, included Charles Hendrickson, Ron M. Antonoli and Sabraw Brothers. E. A. Forde Co. of San Anselmo and Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae completed paving and grading work at the site.

Beauty Salon Offers All Hair Styling

Owner and operator is Terra Linda resident Mrs. Lenora Zeeb, former proprietor of Elva's Beauty Salon in San Francisco for 10 years.

Mrs. Zeeb, who resides with her husband, Walter, and their 17-year-old son, Bill at 614 Wakerobin lane, sold her San Francisco salon in favor of the Terra Linda location.

"We've lived in Terra Linda for three years," she relates "and I decided it would be a much nicer arrangement to have the business here in Marin."

Two other beauticians are available at Lenora's besides Lenora herself—Mrs. Pomona Albuquerque, who is at the salon five days of the week, and Mrs. Ida Merrill, who is available by appointment Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

'Mother Hen' Of Center Is Scotty's

In the case of a regional shopping center, the mother hen usually is a major department store; with a neighborhood center such as that in Terra Linda, however, it is a supermarket.

Terra Linda's "mother hen" is Scotty's Market, which celebrated its second anniversary this January. A modern and busy market, Scotty's is owned and operated by two Joes—Joseph Bregante and Joseph Messina, who decided to join forces after working together as separate owners in the same San Francisco markets for 12 years. They have been friends for 25 years.

Bregante is former owner of the Little Village Market (nine years) and the Uptown Market (three years) in San Francisco. Before that, he was employed in other markets in San Francisco and the San Joaquin Valley.

Messina, who is also part owner of the meat market in the Stonestown Shopping Center in San Francisco, has owned the meat departments in the Little Village and Uptown Markets. He has been in meat market work for 27 years.

Scotty's Market will continue to operate as a complete trading center, Bregante says. "We feel we are here to render a real service and we think we have been accepted by the community."

Scotty's employs 24 persons, including its co-owners. A complete produce department is managed by John Creviani of San Anselmo. Al Sonntag of Santa Venetia is manager of the expansive meat department, which covers nearly a quarter of the 8,000 square-foot floor space. Another 7,000 square foot area is devoted to storage.

Bregante and his wife, Betty, and daughters, Betty-Jo, 13, and Diane, 19, live at 72 Seaway, San Rafael. Messina, who has two married daughters, lives with his wife at 110 Lochinvar road, San Rafael.

"We decided to name the store 'Scotty's' when the owner of another supermarket in Los Angeles suggested the name to us," recalls Bregante. "In our minds it has always stood for cleanliness, economy and value to the shopper. We're going to keep it that way."

Arcade Liquors New Addition At Shop Center

The proprietors are Walter J. and Lucille Berkley, well known to Marinites as the former owners of Henry's Liquor Store at 128 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo.

The Arcade, according to Mrs. Berkley, will offer "the best selection of wines in the county—both domestic and foreign."

In addition to a wide selection of wines and spirits, the Berkleys also will offer glassware for sale and rent. Also the store will sell hors d'oeurves and bar accessories.

The Berkleys have lived in Marin 10 years, and resided in Kentfield before moving to San Anselmo.

Prior to their ownership of Henry's they were proprietors of a residence club in San Francisco.

Center's First Business Was Service Station

The station was opened Nov. 1, 1956 by previous owners, while the second building to rise (Scotty's Market) was still taking form on another part of the five-acre site.

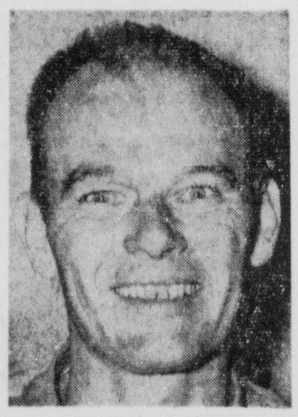

Flaherty at that time was a driver-salesman for Borden's Dairy Delivery Co. of San Rafael, where he had been for six years. A year ago, and after working at the station as a part-time attendant, Flaherty purchased the lease and was in business for himself.

Flaherty is a California native. He served in the Navy Seabees for three years during World War II.

Terra Linda Service offers complete lubrication, and minor repair service, and sales of batteries, tires and tubes. Besides Flaherty, there are two full-time and four part-time employees at the station.

Hours are from 7 a.m., to 9 p.m. weekdays, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturdays, and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays.

Mrs. Connie Travinsky is store proprietor. Her husband, Michael, is watchmaker and does special repair work on jewelery, lighters and small electric appliances.

The Travinskys formerly owned and operated Michael's Jewelry Stores in Santa Venetia (for the past year and one-half) and in San Francisco (for 10 years).

"We decided to open in Terra Linda," Mrs. Travinsky explains, "because here there is room to grow, and we're sure that's what's going to happen."

Travinsky, who works part time at the shop and part time as a toll taker on the Golden Gate Bridge, gained his first experience in the jewelry business as an apprentice in Omaha, Neb. from 1939 to 1941. He later served five years in the armed forces during World War II—one year with the Army Engineers, four years as a captain in the Army Air Forces.

Mrs. Travinsky has resided in California for 22 years. The couple and their four children, Michael, 9, Madeline, 7, Keith, 5, and Natalie, 2, live at 818 Vendola drive, Santa Venetia.

The store remains open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday.

13-SHOP CENTER SERVES TERRA LINDA AREA

Where three years ago there was a single business establishment—the Terra Linda Service station—now stands a 13-unit shopping center which, with the expected addition of a bank, nursery, radio-TV shop and an apparel store, will provide complete neighborhood shopping center facilities to the Terra Linda community. Pictured is an entrance to the center, which provides 240 parking spaces for the convenience of shoppers. The center covers five acres at Del Ganado road and Manuel T. Freitas parkway.

Realty Firm Operates Adjacent To Market

The R. A. Carey Co. real estate firm of San Anselmo has been represented in the Terra Linda Shopping Center since Sept. 26, 1957, when William J. Murray became manager of an office there, adjacent to Scotty's Market.

The office offers home listings for resale and the sale of new homes, as well as leasing arrangements of commercial property at the center itself. The office also specializes in property management absentee owners.

Murray, who is assisted by two salesmen, a secretary and a weekend receptionist, is an agent for Insurance Co. of North America. Available are life, accident and sickness, fire, automobile and casualty insurance policies.

R. A. Carey Co. holds memberships in the Marin County Real Estate Board, the California Real Estate Assn. and the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

Murray, who has resided in Marin County since 1945, has been in the real estate business for five years. He conducted new homes sales for Novato builder John Novak and for Hayward builder John Kenney, and before opening at the center managed an office in the Linda Vista Homes subdivision on Las Colinda road in Terra Linda.

Postmaster Asks Aid In War On Smut

San Raafel Postmaster Warren H. Williams today appealed for public support in the Post Office Department's campaign against "mail order merchants in filth who are violating the homes of the nation."

William said the public, if it wants to, can destroy the half-billion-dollar a year mail order business in obscenity which has "disastrous effects on teenagers."

"We can clean up the mails if enough citizens become aware of the seriousness of this problem and use their influence to do so," he said. He said it would be an aid in curbing juvenile delinquency.

All a citizen has to do, he said, is report any mail soliciting the sale of obscene or pornographic material to the post office, and the post office will investigate.

Cleaners, Dad And Son, Like Terra Linda Site

The father and son proprietors of the Terra Linda Cleaners, William F. Hoffman, (father) and Robert A. Hoffman (son) have not regretted opening for business in the Terra Linda Shopping Center in September, 1957.

Both Hoffmans agree that "business has been on the upgo ever since we opened there, and we feel it is going to increase a great deal more in the days to come."

The father-son team are also co-owners of the Sun Valley Cleaners of San Rafael and the Wardrobe Cleaners of Novato. They have been operating the San Rafael establishment for five years. The elder Hoffman has been employed in the dry cleaning business for 10 years.

Terra Linda Cleaners, managed by Mrs. May Valentine of San Rafael, provides a convenient station for Los Gallinas Valley residents, whose complete dry cleaning needs can be cared for by the firm.

Laundry may also be left at the Terra Linda counter, as may clothing which requires weaving or dying. Treatment of leather and suede goods, hats, and furs also is available.

Delivery service may be arranged for anywhere in the area. Three delivery trucks serve all portions of the valley.

The Terra Linda Cleaners remains open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sundays.

Twenty-four hour service is available when necessary, and even faster service is possible, according to Robert Hoffman, who adds, "We always try to give the fastest service possible."

The Hoffmans have lived in the Bay Area since 1943. The senior partner and his wife, Helen, reside at 110B Belle avenue, San Rafael. Robert and his wife, Majorie, make their home at 7 Plaza Demira, Novato.

There are two places in the world called Christmas Island, both named by mariners who sighted them at the Yuletide. One is in the Indian Ocean and the other in the Central Pacific.

Modern Pharmacy Big Addition To Shop Center

One of the most prominent additions to the Terra Linda Shopping Center has been the Terra Linda Pharmacy, which opened its doors to the public last August 29, offering all forms of sundries, as well as a full prescription department.

The modern, fluorescent-lighted drug store, is managed by pharmacist Francis E. Hermansky, partner with Bernard B. Kaplan, who has been pharmacist and owner-manager of the Corte Madera Pharmacy for 13 years.

Terra Linda Pharmacy, covering 2,880 square feet of floor space on the ground level, has another 1,200 square feet of upstairs storage space. A pitched ceiling rises from above the entrance area to a point high above the prescription department, giving an added effect of speciousness.

Mrs. Mary Hansen and Mrs. Helen Smothers, cosmeticians, manage a complete cosmetics department. A 20-seat luncheon and soda fountain, separately owned and managed, flanks one side of the store.

The store is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sundays. Besides its two partners, a third pharmacist, Herbert Harris of Corte Madera, also is available at the prescription counter on a part-time basis.

Partners Hermansky and Kaplan are not novices to the pharmaceutical business. Before Kaplan opened the Corte Madera store, he had been a druggist in San Francisco since 1937. Hermansky, for four years before opening the store in Terra Linda, prepared prescriptions at various drug stores in Marin County. He was employed by a Napa pharmacy for a year before that.

Both Hermansky and Kaplan saw service with the Coast Guard for about four years during World War II.

Hermansky and his wife, Patricia, and children, John, 9, and Mary, 7, reside at 690 Hawthorne drive, Tiburon. Kaplan and his wife, Gayle, and children Sandy, 11; Marc, 9, and Scott, 3, live at 48 Elm avenue, Larkspur.

The Terra Linda Fountain, running the entire length of the drug store, and specializing in hot lunches and homemade pies, is owned and managed by two sisters, Mrs. Charcia Shaw and Mrs. Frances Delz. They have been in business at the counter since last Nov. 17.

"We've been even busier than we had hoped for," relates Mrs. Delz. The counter is open daily from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., except Sundays. The sisters are assisted by one full-time and two part-time employees.

"We make our own pies, soups, chili and sandwiches," they boast. Specialty of the house is the roast beef sandwich, served every day.

The sisters, originally from Kansas, settled in Santa Rosa, where both lived for several years. Mrs. Delz and her husband J. M. Delz and children, Lorraine, 15, and Leslie, 9, live at 670 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia. Mrs. Shaw and her husband, Emsley, live at 279 Orange Blossom lane, Terra Linda. They have one married daughter.

Mrs. Shaw until two years ago was employed as a waitress by a Santa Rosa restaurant. Since then she was a checker in various grocery stores in Santa Rosa and San Rafael before joining the lunch counter venture. Mrs. Delz was previously a beautician in Santa Rosa and San Rafael.

Dean's Donut Shop Handy For Shoppers

Dean's Delicious Donut and Ice Cream Shop has been a welcome addition to the Terra Linda Shopping Center for the hungry shopper who enjoys fresh doughnuts, coffee and hand-dipped ice cream. All are specialties of the house, according to proprietor Dean Cullen, who proudly recites his motto: "We never sell a day-old doughnut."

Cullen, co-owner of the shop with his wife, Lavina, does his own doughnut making and serves a growing number of customers. Both counter and take out service is provided, as are soda fountain specialties.

Cullen opened the shop last Nov. 29. It is open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. seven days a week.

Cullen formerly was supervisor and distributor for Oroweat Baking Co. in Sacramento (from 1948 to 1956) and in Marin County from 1956 until the opening of the Terra Linda business.

Barber Specializes In Kids' Haircuts

A barber shop, specializing in children's haircuts, opened in the Terra Linda Shopping Center Dec. 2, last year. The shop is appropriately located in an arcade opposite Lenora's Beauty Salon.

Barber Normand Proulx, a newcomer to Marin, was employed by barber shops in San Bruno for five years before opening in Terra Linda. He is a graduate of Modern Barber College in San Francisco.

Proulx and his wife, Rosalie, and their daughters, Christine, 7, and Carolyn, 5, plan to move to Marin soon from their present home in San Francisco.

The Terra Linda Barber Shop is open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. weekdays, except Mondays, and from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturdays.

The shop, equipped with the latest equipment, someday may be expanded to three chairs, Proulx predicts.

The sport of curling was introduced to Canada 200 years ago by Scottish troops stationed in Quebec; "shuffleboard on ice" is now said to be increasingly popular in this country.

Hardware Shop Has Garden Supplies, Too

The store is managed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook of 462 Hickory lane, Terra Linda, co-owners with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hale of Cotati. Hale and Mrs. Cook are brother and sister.

The store soon is to install a fishing equipment department which also will offer fishing license registration. Boysen Paints are also available at Cook-Hale.

Key making and free delivery are added services found at the store, which opened for business Dec. 16.

Cook, who was in the retail lumber and hardware business in Grants Pass, Ore., for 17 years before moving to the Bay Area eight years ago, was employed as a sales representative for Cook Brothers Truck and Equipment Co. of Oakland before deciding to open a business in Terra Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook have a son, Stephen, 9.

3-R Summer School Taking Enrollments

Enrollment of students for the June 22-July 24 and July 27-August 28 sessions of the 3R Summer School is under way at 508A Fourth street, San Rafael, announces James Kirchanski, director.

Morning and afternoon classes of three hours each will be conducted in the school's new building nearing completion on Highway 101 north of San Rafael. Transportation may be provided, said Kirchanski.

Terra Linda School Bids To Be Opened

The San Rafael Board of Education will meet at 7:30 o'clock at 215 Mission avenue to consider the bids on the new school, as yet unnamed.

The 30-acre campus is expected to handle 700 students in the first phase of construction. Proposed for construction this year are a two-story academic building with administration wing, general purpose-cafeteria, gymnasium, music drama building, and a shop.

Other items on tonight's agenda include 10 new teachers to be hired to fill vacancies. Five instructors are resigning because they are moving out of the county. They include Joy DeBenedetti of E Street School, Martha Lee Andreu of Santa Venetia, Shirley Crawford of Davidson, Nancy Thompson of Hartzell and Phyllis Hanna of Sun Valley and West End.

Music director Hugo Rinaldi is asking for a year's sabbatical leave to take graduate work at Stanford University. Mrs. Leah VanGiesen of Hartzell School wants a year's leave to accompany her husband to Wisconsin for his medical residency.

Contract for Santa Venetia School lockers may be awarded to Worley and Co., which submitted the low bid of $3,876.

The teachers salary committee has made recommendations on raising the salary maximums. The $200 across-the-board raise granted for the coming year means a top salary of $7,700 in the elementary schools and $8,300 in the high school. The salary committee suggests a top of $8,100 for the elementary and $8,680 for the high school teachers.

Variety Store Owners Praise 'Nicest People'

Mr. and Walter Lyons, who called Los Angeles their home for 20 years, left that city in 1957 in favor of moving to Marin County—mainly to escape the smog, they admit.

The result is that Terra Linda has a variety store, owned and operated by the husband and wife, former proprietors of a Los Angeles grocery store for eight years.

The Terra Linda Variety Store, which opened for business in the Terra Linda Shopping Center in November, 1957, has departments for toys, greeting cards, school supplies and notions, displayed throughout the well-lighted store on conveniently arranged counters.

The original 2,400 square feet of floor space has been expanded by another 1,500 square feet, and two salespersons have been hired to help the Lyons serve the Marin public, who they contend, "are the nicest people we've ever dealt with."

Lyons, who also was once employed by the distribution department of the Los Angeles Times, during a vacation several years ago experienced relief in breathing while away from the city. "That was all I needed," he recalls. The Lyons sold out their grocery business and headed for Marin.

No new departments are planned for the store, Lyons says, but a greater supply of merchandise will be offered.

NEWEST ADDITION TO TERRA LINDA CENTER

Arcade Liquors opened April 14 in the Terra Linda Shopping Center, bringing to 13 the number of shops in the center. Walter J. Berkley, co-owner of Arcade with his wife Lucille, displays a sample of the shop's complete selection of wines and spirits. The Berkleys formerly owned Henry's Liquor Store in San Anselmo for five years. Before that, they operated a San Francisco residence club.

PHARMACY SERVES TERRA LINDA

The Terra Linda Pharmacy opened last August to fill the community's need for a drug store and prescription service. Co-owners Francis E. Hermansky and Bernard B. Kaplan, both skilled pharmacists, specialize in the prescription department. Also available at the store are a complete cosmetic department, sundries and a 20-seat lunch counter-soda fountain, operated by Charlcia Shaw and Mrs. Frances Delz.

Where Cows Roamed 6 Years Ago 1,100 Homes Shelter 4,200 Persons

Only six years ago, dairy cows roamed the valley of the historic Freitas Home Ranch two and one-half miles north of San Rafael. Today 400 acres there are covered with 1,100 homes and estimated 4,200 persons reside in the area called Terra Linda.

A modern neighborhood shopping center has risen at Del Ganada road and Manuel Freitas boulevard. Three permanent and one temporary elementary school — all in the Dixie School District — serve the area.

Even so, growth of the Terra Linda has not been as rapid as developers earlier had predicted. They still predict that the area eventually may contain a total of 4,000 homes. One thousand and 90 acres, still owned by the Freitas family and undeveloped may be annexed to San Rafael as a prelude to possible future building.

Development of the one-time ranchlands into one of Marin's most modern residential areas started in September of 1953 when the Terra Linda Corp. of San Rafael was formed with an ambitious plan to develop most of 1,200 Freitas acres with home sites.

Less than two years later, after building nearly 200 homes, the corporation terminated its project when negotiations to purchase the remaining land failed, according then to R. F. Almquist, vice president of the corporation. The Terra Linda Corp. thereafter continued real estate transactions in the area.

The original corporation-built homes, designed by architect Rolland B. Hammond, are modern, ranch style houses, each containing two or three bedrooms and enclosed with redwood fences.

In October of 1954, Joseph L. Eichler of Eichler Homes Inc. of Palo Alto announced he would build an original subdivision of 85 of his already famous type of ultra-modern homes. Eichler has since built a total of about 500 homes in the area.

Other major developments followed. The John Kenney Development Co. of Alameda helped expand the area with another 250 conventional type homes. P. J. Tarrant, Inc., of San Rafael has since built some 50 homes. Smaller numbers of residences, built by other contractors have swelled the grand total of Terra Linda homes to about 1,100.

One of the more recent developments in the Terra Linda area has been the impressive start to the multi-million dollar Marin Professional Center east of Highway 101, opposite Manuel Freitas parkway.

First in a series of professional structures to rise on a 77-acre site there which one day is expected to contain a large number of professional and apartment buildings, has been the $75,000 doughnut-shaped medico-dental building housing the medical group.

The building, which is owned by Dr. William S. Neal, Terra Linda pediatrician, opened last September. Besides Dr. Neal's offices, it contains the offices for a dentist, a doctor of internal medicine and a surgeon.

The second unit to go up there has been the 48-bed Center Medical Hospital, which opened its doors in January. The convalescent hospital, under the administration of James E. Moore, has registered nurses on duty 24 hours a day.

Developed by Harry Heifetz, the professional center also is expected one day to contain an office building four stories high, and buildings for fraternal and church groups. Garden apartments are planned to be located forming "green belts" between the other buildings.

Terra Lindans a year ago formed a community services district, which has assumed the job of affording fire protection and recreational facilities to the area.

A recently proposed $350,000 recreational bond issue would provide park and playground areas, swimming pools, and an all-purpose pavilion for public meetings and community activities.

School Science Fairs Nature Group Topic

We Spend Millions For Music, But Good Teachers Hard Come By

We want our children to know and enjoy good music. We buy pianos for them, or smaller instruments. We hire private teachers. We've made children's music into a big industry. Heaven knows how many million dollars go into it each year. It's a good trend.

But there's a catch. We don't have enough trained, qualified private music teachers to go around. So some parents are forced to turn to high school and college kids for instructors. Johnny Doe, age 15, plays trumpet in the high school band. That's his only qualification. He wants to earn some money. So he starts teaching little boys how to blow a horn.

Maybe Johnny Doe turns out all right. He may be a born music teacher. On the other hand, he may be terrible. He may have weak techniques. He may give imperious orders. His little pupils may not get anything from their lessons. We aren't helping our children when we send them to a bad teacher.

I'm not saying all teen-age instructors are bad. Many of them are very good. But I am warning you to be careful. When you start your children, check all the available private music teachers. Inquire about their reputations. Ask about their personalities, training and experience. If you hunt a little you'll find some good private teachers. They're the ones to hire.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I'm desperate. Our boy is 9. Formerly he loved his violin lessons. Now he refuses to practice. I've whipped him many times. My punishment makes him worse. Should we continue the violin lessons?"

Mrs. T. S. D.

(A) No. You're losing more than you're gaining by the lessons. Later your boy may want to return to the violin or to another instrument. Let him do it.

Hicks Valley Fire Substation Won't Be Built Next Year

By unanimous vote they eliminated the $25,000 for its construction from the 1959-60 county budget.

READY IN JUNE

He said the new Throckmorton Ridge subdivision above Mountain Home is supposed to be completed in mid-June. Reilley estimated $5,000 additional would be needed to staff the new substation.

The Throckmorton Ridge substation was one of three recommended to Marin County by the state Division of Forestry. The second was in Hicks Valley and the third at Tomales. It was part of a plan to replace a string of wardens throughout the county with substations.

The county fire department has its headquarters at Woodacre, substations at Marin City and Point Reyes Station, a two-man station at Tomales, and wardens presently in or near San Rafael, Santa Venetia, Bayside Acres, Throckmorton Ridge, Larkspur, Bolinas, Chileno Valley, Hicks Valley and Stinson Beach.

SURVEY DUE

A survey on the county fire department being made by Chief Reilley, County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, and the state Division of Forestry should be ready for presentation to the board in mid-June, Jensen told the supervisors.

"My understanding is that we get the survey and then make a policy decision on the Hick's Valley substation," commented Supervisor James A. Marshall.

Yesterday, when the board was considering the budget of the county communications department, chairman Walter R. Castro mentioned the possibility that the state Division of Forestry take over county fire protection by contract. Marin is one of six California counties which maintains their own fire departments.

RADIO SYSTEM

The board, however, approved $20,000 for a new fire radio system so that each of the county's 35 mobile fire units will get new "narrow band" radio equipment. Another $15,000 was approved for county public work trucks and similar non-emergency radio equipment to be changed to "narrow band."

The county has until 1963 to convert its present radio frequency used for fire, police and non-emergency communications to separate "narrow band" frequencies, said J. Mansfield Lewis, head of the county communications department. Although the three-way split doesn't have to be made until 1963, the narrower frequency must be in effect by August of 1960. The supervisors took no action to provide new radio equipment for the sheriff's department, postponing that to another fiscal year.

ITEMS APPROVED

In other budget decisions yesterday, the board:

1. Approved the budget of County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini, whose department, financed entirely by fees collected, is estimated to show a $20,000 profit next fiscal year.
2. Approved the budget of Kenneth Brown, county sealer of weights and measures, but kept his three-man staff to two trucks instead of increasing it to three.
3. Approved the budget of County Coroner Frank J. Keaton but disapproved hiring a $6,060-a-year assistant coroner. Keaton has a working arrangement with other Marin morticians whereby they are designated deputy coroner on a rotating basis. "The one who profits most out of this is the taxpayer," said Keaton.
4. Approved the public pound budget to which the county will contribute $34,000 in 1959-60. Mel L. Morse of the Marin County Humane Society, which administers the pound in San Rafael, said that on July 1 for the first time the entire county will be on a single dog license system.
5. Approved a $263,325 budget for the county hospital and farm at Lucas Valley for chronically ill indigent patients. The average number of patients this year is 61 and is expected to rise to 65 during 1959-60.
6. Approved a $29,700 budget for persons committed to state homes for the feeble-minded and those committed to state correctional institutions, part of which the county is reimbursed by responsible relatives. The same is true of the $22,700 approved for examination of insane or inebriate persons, examinations being conducted pursuant to court orders.

Klahn Reports Marin City Job Well On Way

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, told authority members yesterday afternoon that excavation for the $3,800,000 public low rent housing project is 93 per cent complete and the first concrete slab has been poured.

In addition, Klahn reported, storm sewers are 41 per cent completed, sanitary sewers 22 per cent, and electrical distribution 40 per cent.

"I have been informed by the contractors," Klahn reported, "that they are shooting for project completion six months ahead of schedule."

The contractors plan to complete four multi-story buildings by Aug. 1, 1960, with the balance to be completed in November.

Commissioners instructed Klahn to inform redeveloper James C. Scheuer that they would expect him at the June meeting to present proposed prices on homes for sale and proposed rental figures for apartments, preparatory to "firming" a contract with him.

The instruction followed a comment by Klahn that "I am becoming concerned that figures now being discussed (by Scheuer) are getting above what we've been thinking about."

Klahn reported that the land re-use appraisals are under way and "the agreement between the agency and Scheuer hinges directly on this appraisal." He added:

"The agency has been instructed by UA (Urban Renewal Administration) that it must adopt a 'get tough' policy in determining these values."

The commission also:

1. Deferred action on a suggestion by the American Friends Service Committee and the Urban League that a full-time counselor be added to the agency's staff to aid tenants in problems connected with home acquisition.
2. Deferred taking action on arranging for a professional analysis of returns on a recent survey to determine present tenants plans for new homes or apartments.
3. Noted that the board of supervisors has the authority to request the housing authority to turn over to the Sausalito School District any surplus funds after liquidation of the Marin City property as an aid to the district's financial problem.

Commissioner Howard B. Swartz was absent.

First Negro Starts Work In Courthouse

Paul Brown, 42, the first Negro to be hired in an office job for Marin County, reported for work yesterday in the assessor's office as draftsman.

Brown was a draftsman for the state Division of Highways before taking the Marin job at $415 per month. Before that he worked for 12 years for the United States Lake Survey cartographic branch, first as draftsman and later as map editor.

He is an Army veteran with three and one-half years service. He spent seven months overseas in France.

Plans are under way for the 14th annual "Fun in Marin" public folk dance festival July 12 at College of Marin in Kentfield, it was announced today by Scott Tilden, president of the sponsoring Marin Dance Council.

Folk dance groups from throughout northern California are expected to participate in the afternoon lawn dancing and evening dancing in the college gymnasium, said Tilden.

Included will be national dances of foreign countries, popular mixers, Kolos and others. Square dance callers from throughout the Bay Area will be on hand for American squares, and costumed exhibition groups will perform at both afternoon and evening sessions.

Highlighting the festivities will be a visit by Adolfo G. Dominguez, consul general of Mexico for Northern California.

Associate Warden Benjamin F. Baer will officially welcome the consul general in behalf of the 1,225 inmates of Mexican descent.

Fairfax Woman Fined For Drunken Driving

Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, yesterday put her on one year probation on condition she pay the fine, pay for fence repairs, and not drink.

Bird Expert Due Transfer From 'Rock'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Robert Stroud, 70, the "Birdman of Alcatraz," has been promised a transfer to a federal prison where he will emerge from solitary confinement for the first time in 42 years, Warden Paul Madigan has announced.

Stroud, first convicted of manslaughter in 1909 and sent to McNeil Island Prison in Washington, killed a guard at Leavenworth Prison in 1916 where he had been transferred. Sentenced to die, President Woodrow Wilson commuted the sentence to life in solitary confinement.

BIRD STUDIES

Stroud became a world-famed authority on bird disease while conducting experiments on canaries at Leavenworth, but his experiments ended when transferred to Alcatraz in 1942 without birds or a laboratory.

"We have made no official request to transfer Stroud," Madigan said, but it was understood the transfer will take place within three months "if Stroud desists from trying to drum up sympathy for his release."

Stroud has been seeking parole or less limited confinement ever since his transfer to "The Rock," but the federal Bureau of Prisons has consistently opposed him. That policy was changed earlier this year. Meanwhile, Stroud has balked at the possibility of being classed as a mental patient and said he preferred another minimum security prison in Texas. He wants to get back to laboratory work.

COMMITTEE FORMED

Since publication of Stroud's book about his life, "Birdman of Alcatraz," a national committee has been working for his parole or transfer. The group has sent more than 5,000 letters to the White House. The federal Bureau of Prisons continues to insist Stroud is a "Dangerous Criminal."

Stroud lost an attempt to win his freedom last week when the federal court here turned down a petition for habeas corpus based on a "double jeopardy" claim, but the refusal for release opened the way for a possible transfer.

New Belvedere Policeman Named

Alexander Mendoza, 23-year-old correctional officer at San Quentin Prison, has been named for appointment to the Belvedere Police Department, according to Police Chief William S. Woodington.

He will replace Sgt. Frank Costa, resigned, and will report for duty June 1, Woodington said.

Mendoza lives at 17 Merrydale road, San Rafael, with his wife and infant daughter. Woodington said Mendoza plans to move to the Belvedere area after June 1.

Mendoza has lived in Marin County for 16 years and is a graduate of Bellarmine Preparatory School in San Jose.

Planners Approve First Maps For Two New Marinwood Units

Tentative maps of two new Marinwood subdivisions—Units 7 and 2F—had the approval today of the Marin County Planning Commission preparatory to seeking sanction of county supervisors.

The 60-acre Unit 7 brings Marinwood and Terra Linda together in the vicinity of Bernard Hoffman School.

The planners required that Las Gallinas avenue be paved throughout its full width in accordance with the Marinwood master plan amendment. In addition, a 10-foot pedestrian access to the future "wilderness area" is to be improved and dedicated as part of this subdivision.

291 HOMES

The subdivision is part of an ultimate development of 291 new homes planned by Heers Brothers, Inc., of Riverside, at a cost of more than two million dollars, according to Lance Patrick, project coordinator.

The minimum lot size is 7,500 square feet. Work on 21 already-approved houses began in January. Sewage disposal would be provided by the Gallinas Valley Sanitary District and water by Marin Municipal Water District.

The second Marinwood subdivision—Unit 2F—will also be developed by Heers Brothers, Inc., and not Marinwood Builders as announced in advance notice of yesterday's planning commission meeting, the commission was informed.

3 EXCEPTIONS

The planning staff urged three exceptions to Ordinance No. 640 for the tentative map. The exceptions were to permit a gradient not greater than 18 per cent on a portion of Limestone grade; a 40-foot right-of-way and 28 feet of paving on a portion of Limestone Grade, and three double-frontage lots of less than 200 feet depth.

The tract is adjacent to U.S. Highway 101 and Marinwood Units 1E, 1F, 1G, 2D and 2E.

The county planners granted development plans for one lot of Mariner Oaks yesterday, on which a 24-unit apartment house has been proposed.

Yesterday the commissioners considered the merits of allowing the filing of a development plan for one lot only before taking action. As a possible precedent, the commission was referred by its staff to the board's action on a similar application for one lot in El Marinero subdivision.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other matters, the board:

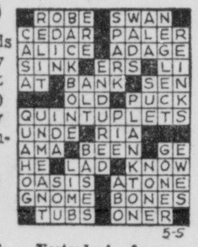

1. Granted a similar application for development plans for only a portion of the area covered by the Mariner Oaks Master Plan for property on Mar West street adjacent to the Southern Marin Recreation Center in the Tiburon area.
2. Continued for a month action on a hearing to amend Ordinance No. 264 to reclassify 25 acres adjacent to the new highway right of way for Richardson Bay Bridge.
3. Approved a tentative subdivision map of Desco subdivision, Desco-Novato, Inc., being the subdivider.

17 Percussion Instruments—And A Girl—For Next Concert

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Concert goers planning to attend Friday night's final program of the season given by the Marin Symphony Orchestra may look forward to an unusual experience.

One of the two concluding works will be the seldom-heard Concerto for Percussion and Small Orchestra by Darius Milhaud.

Rare as it is to hear a composition containing a solo for percussion, Friday night's performance will be all the more unusual because the soloist will be a young woman playing instruments traditionally used by men. She is Anne van der Wyk, who has been a member of the orchestra for two years.

A real tour de force for a tympanist, the solo part requires the playing of 17 percussion instruments — four tympani, a bass drum, three snare drums in different sizes, suspended cymbal, clashed cymbals, castanets, gong, slapstick, wood block, triangle, cow bell and ratchet.

Composer Milhaud, who teaches at Mills College, wrote the work in 1929-30 as a demonstration piece for graduating percussion students of M. Coutelier, tympanist with the symphony orchestra of Brussels.

Born in Tucson, Ariz., 23-year-old Anne van der Wyk began her specialized music study early in life. She started with piano but decided she did not want to be a soloist, and being fascinated with rhythm, decided to study percussion.

Anne attended University of Southern California, majoring with empasis on piano and percussion, and was a member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. After that she played with other symphonies in Southern California and the Bay Area; for two years at the Ojai Festival under Stravinsky, and with the Hollywood Bowl Symphony. She is now a member of the San Francisco Little Symphony.

The program, to be presented at 8:30 p.m. in Marin Catholic High School under direction of Sandor Salgo, will open with Symphony No. 4 in A Major ("Italian") Opus 90 by Mendelssohn. This will be followed by Soprano Gwen Curatilo's three arias — "Non Mi Dir" from "Don Giovanni" by Mozart, "Ave Maria" from "Otello" by Verdi, and "Regnava Nel Silenzio" from "Lucia Di Lammermoor" by Donizetti.

MOST ELEGANT CROCHET — In comedy scene from "Mrs. McThing," to be presented by Novato Community Players Friday and Saturday and May 15 and 16, are (from left) Mrs. George Barnwell, Mrs. Sheldon Nichols and Mrs. George Wahl, who play the roles of the Lewis sisters.

Mary Chase Comedy Due In Novato

"Mrs. McThing," a comedy by Mary Chase, will be presented by the Novato Community Players Friday and Saturday, and again May 15 and 16 at the Novato Community Clubhouse. The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. at all performances.

Tickets may be purchased at the door the nights of the performances or at Hiller's Shoe Store and Woody's TV and Hi-Fi Co. in Novato.

Farm Board Urges Highway Caution

Directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau yesterday voted to urge the state Division of Highways to "try to affect as few land owners as possible" in its proposed expansion of Highway 101 in West Marin.

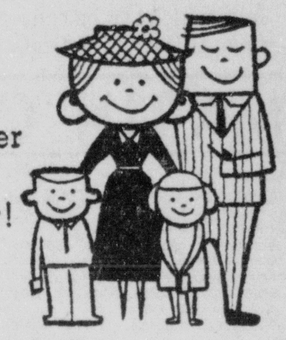

Directors, meeting in the Farm Bureau building north of Novato, heard a highway committee report that state survey crews have surveyed Muir Beach ranch lands of George Wheelwright, which would cut through a barn and other facilities in connection with a proposed routing of the freeway through Tamalpais Valley. The directors, however, declined to favor any particular route for the freeway, except to also urge the division of highways to choose the least costly route.

Girls To Show Baking Tricks At Open House

New baking tricks and short cuts in sewing will be among the many demonstrations at College of Marin's open house tonight.

A make-it yourself master mix for cakes, cookies and puddings, which was developed in the college's own home economics department, will be of special interest to the chef in the family. Not only will the public have an opportunity to actually see how the mix is put together, but Mrs. Mary Fedde, home economics instructor, will have copies of the recipe for all to take home and try.

TAKE YOUR PICK

The new mix can be made in assorted flavors such as white, yellow, chocolate, and burnt sugar, and will keep for at least three months.

Cakes will be baked from the master mix, then cut and assembled into fancy shapes for children's parties. Visitors will learn how to make a shaggy dog, ship, clown and maypole (in keeping with the season)—all from cakes made from the mix.

SEWING TRICKS

A quick trick for putting in sleeve linings and a simplified method of sewing in a sleeve will be shown and should prove to be a boon to housewives who struggle with these intricate phases of sewing. The demonstrations will be conducted in the home economics laboratory in the science building by Mrs. Mary Hoffman Fedde and her classes. Students also will model clothes they have made in the sewing class.

All college departments will be open for public inspection tonight. Many classes have scheduled special demonstrations and exhibits. Faculty members will be present in each classroom to explain the programs offered and to answer questions.

MEET THE PRESIDENT

From 8 to 8:30 o'clock college president Ward H. Austin and members of the administrative staff will greet visitors in room 96, Olney Hall, at which time programs and maps of the campus will be distributed.

Other events scheduled during the month to acquaint the public with the college are the Art and Industrial Arts open house on May 15, the Jazz Festival on May 14, 15 and 16, and the drama students' play, "King Oedipus" on May 21, 22 and 23.

Hundreds See Wildflowers At Stinson

Hundreds of wildflower enthusiasts took advantage of the second annual wildflower show at Stinson Beach Saturday and Sunday to examine the more than 200 California wildflower specimens on display, gathered in areas from Bakesfield to Redding.

Staged for the benefit of the planned chapel which will become a unit of the Stinson Beach Community Center, the show was the work of Mrs. William Sherfey, Mrs. Edward F. Leary and Mrs. Kenneth Shockey. The three spent more than a month traveling the state for specimens and staging the show.
